Remain true

to yourselves

but move

ever upward

toward greater consciousness

and greater love!

At the summit

you will find yourselves

united

with all those who from

every direction

have made the same ascent.

For everything

that rises

must converge.

One of the seriest guys I know take care of Jane she's no tough

George

Ron,

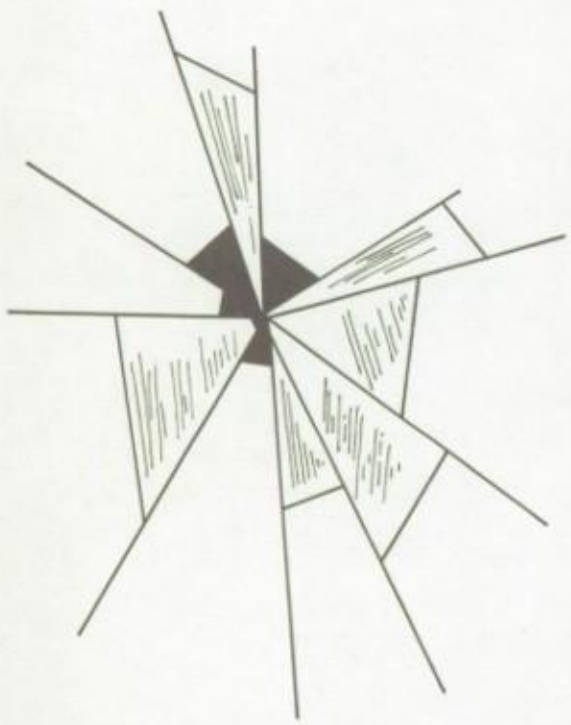
You're the sweetest + most wonderful guy I've ever met. I love every minute I'm with you + I'd give anything to be with you more. I'm so proud every time I'm with you, + I think you know how I love to show you off.

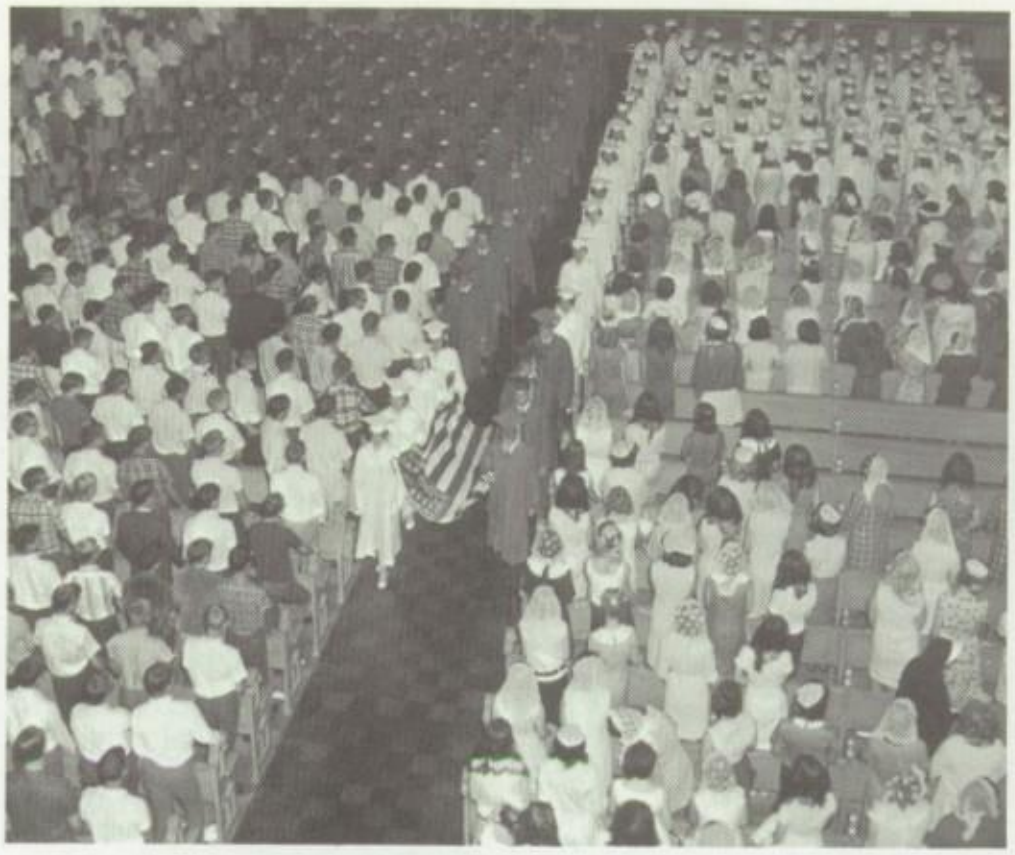
I'm really looking forward to this coming fall + winter when you go out for sports. Because I know I'll be at every game to watch you play.

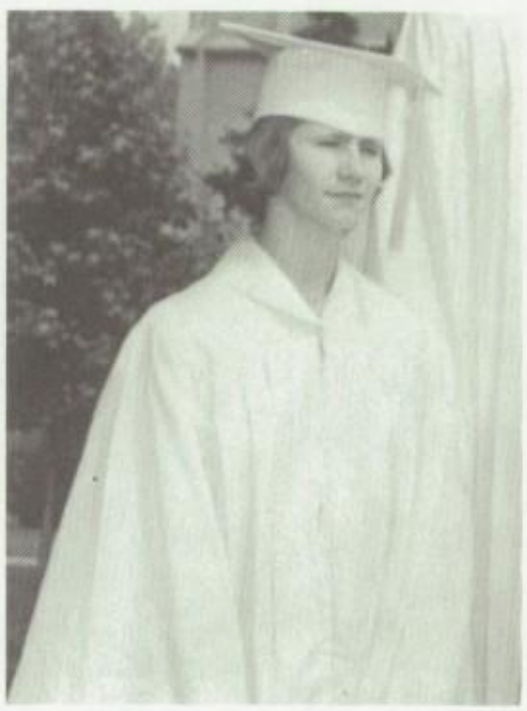
Stay sweet + remember I'm always thinking of you.

Love always,

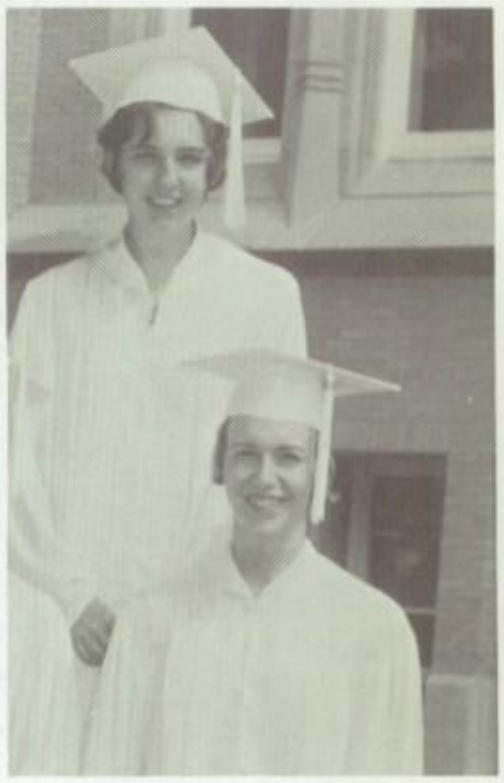
Jane







For Everything That Rises Must Converge



At the Summit United with All Who from Every Direction Have Made the Same Ascent

Schools Present Facts at College Night

College Night, Oct. 25, was an important night to many students with an eye on the future. Here Mr. James L. Schweickhardt, representative from St. Louis University, gave parents and students an opportunity to get acquainted with his school and what it has to offer. Over 20 mid-western colleges and universities, nursing schools and technical schools were represented.

Baseball, Track Close Athletic Year

Jack Mitchell hands off the baton to Mike Pirnat, who will run the last of the relay.

Practicing starts, Jack Mitchell prepares for a meet.

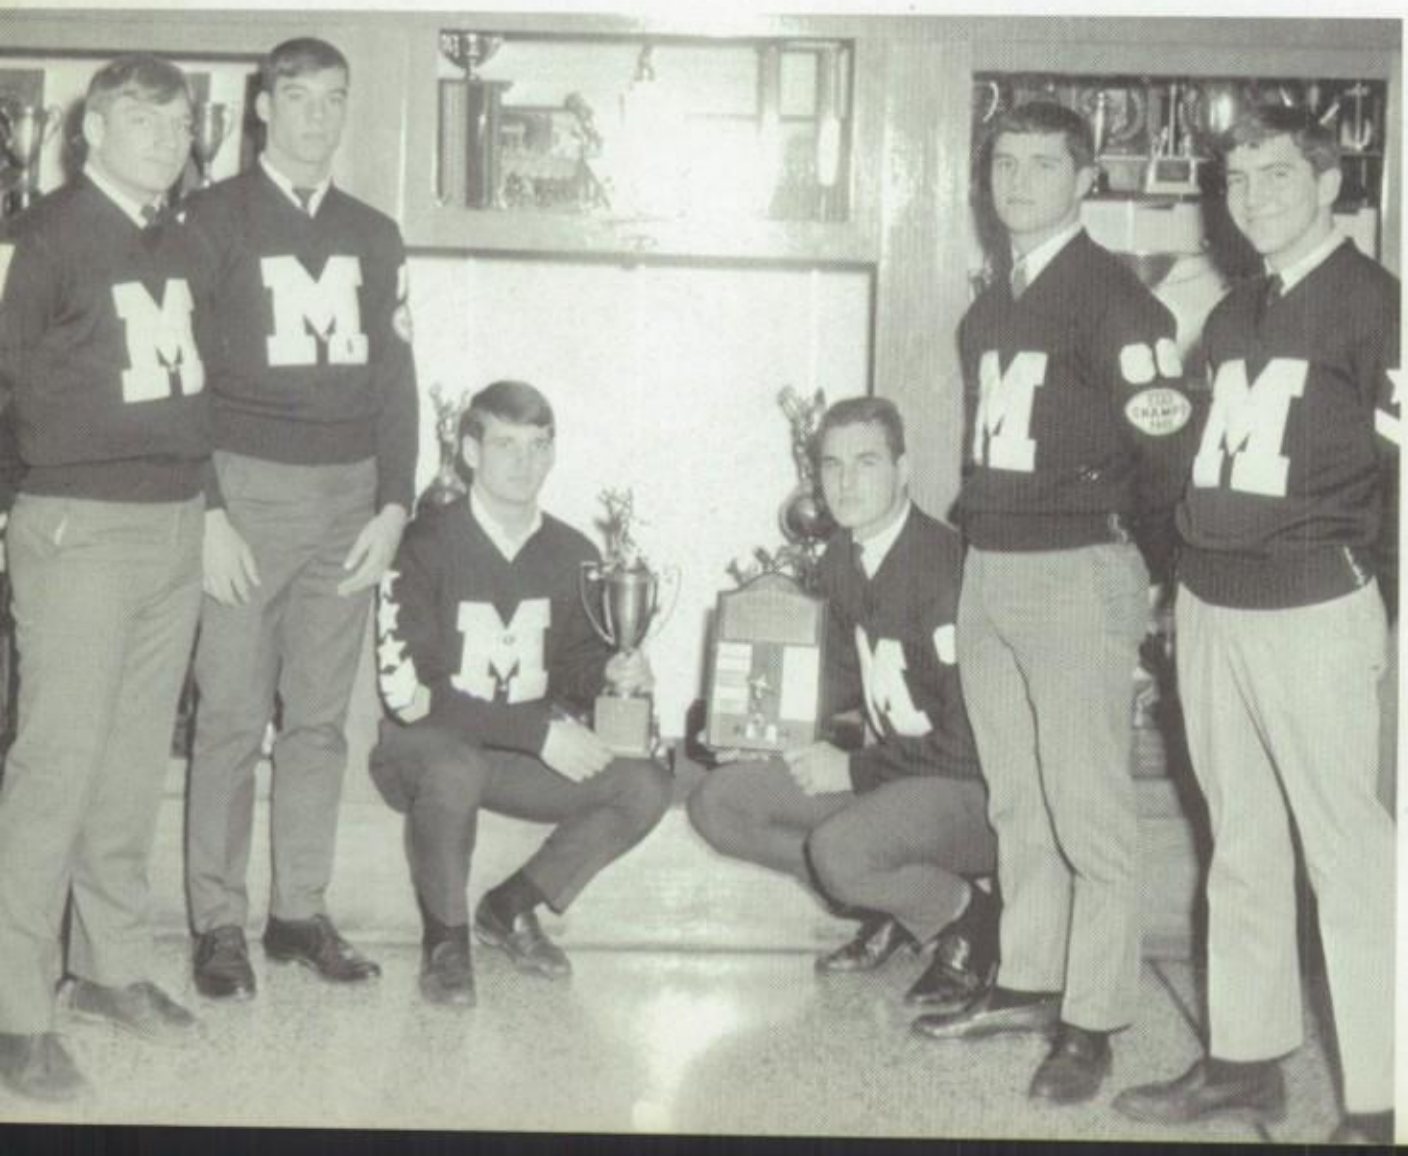
Tigers and Tigerettes Unite for Victory

In a blue and white Memorial "M", the Tigerettes line up in one of their precision formations. Performing at football and basketball games are: choreographer Judy Fitzpatrick, Bert Marcilliat, Charleen Browning, Paulette Kissel, Mary Schwindel, Linda Wempe, Donna Henderson, Kathy Hubbuch, Linda Engbers, Chris Redding, Karen Metz, Marsha Metz, Betty McFetridge, Julie Berry, Cathy Schafer, Linda Ziegler, Sherry Heathcott, Terry Weil, Pam Bruce, Cathy Spalding, Denise Stallings, Mary Jo Hopper, choreographer Teresa Mattingly.



All-city football players Gerald Seib, Bill Muller, Pete Rupp, Paul Gerhardt, Jerry Cambron and Mike Hobgood led the way to the SIAC and City championships.

Tennis and Golf Build Individual Skills

Returning an opponent's serve in a varsity match is Memorial tennis player Jim Unverzagt.

Allen Williams fakes a Central player out of position as he prepares to drive for a Memorial score.

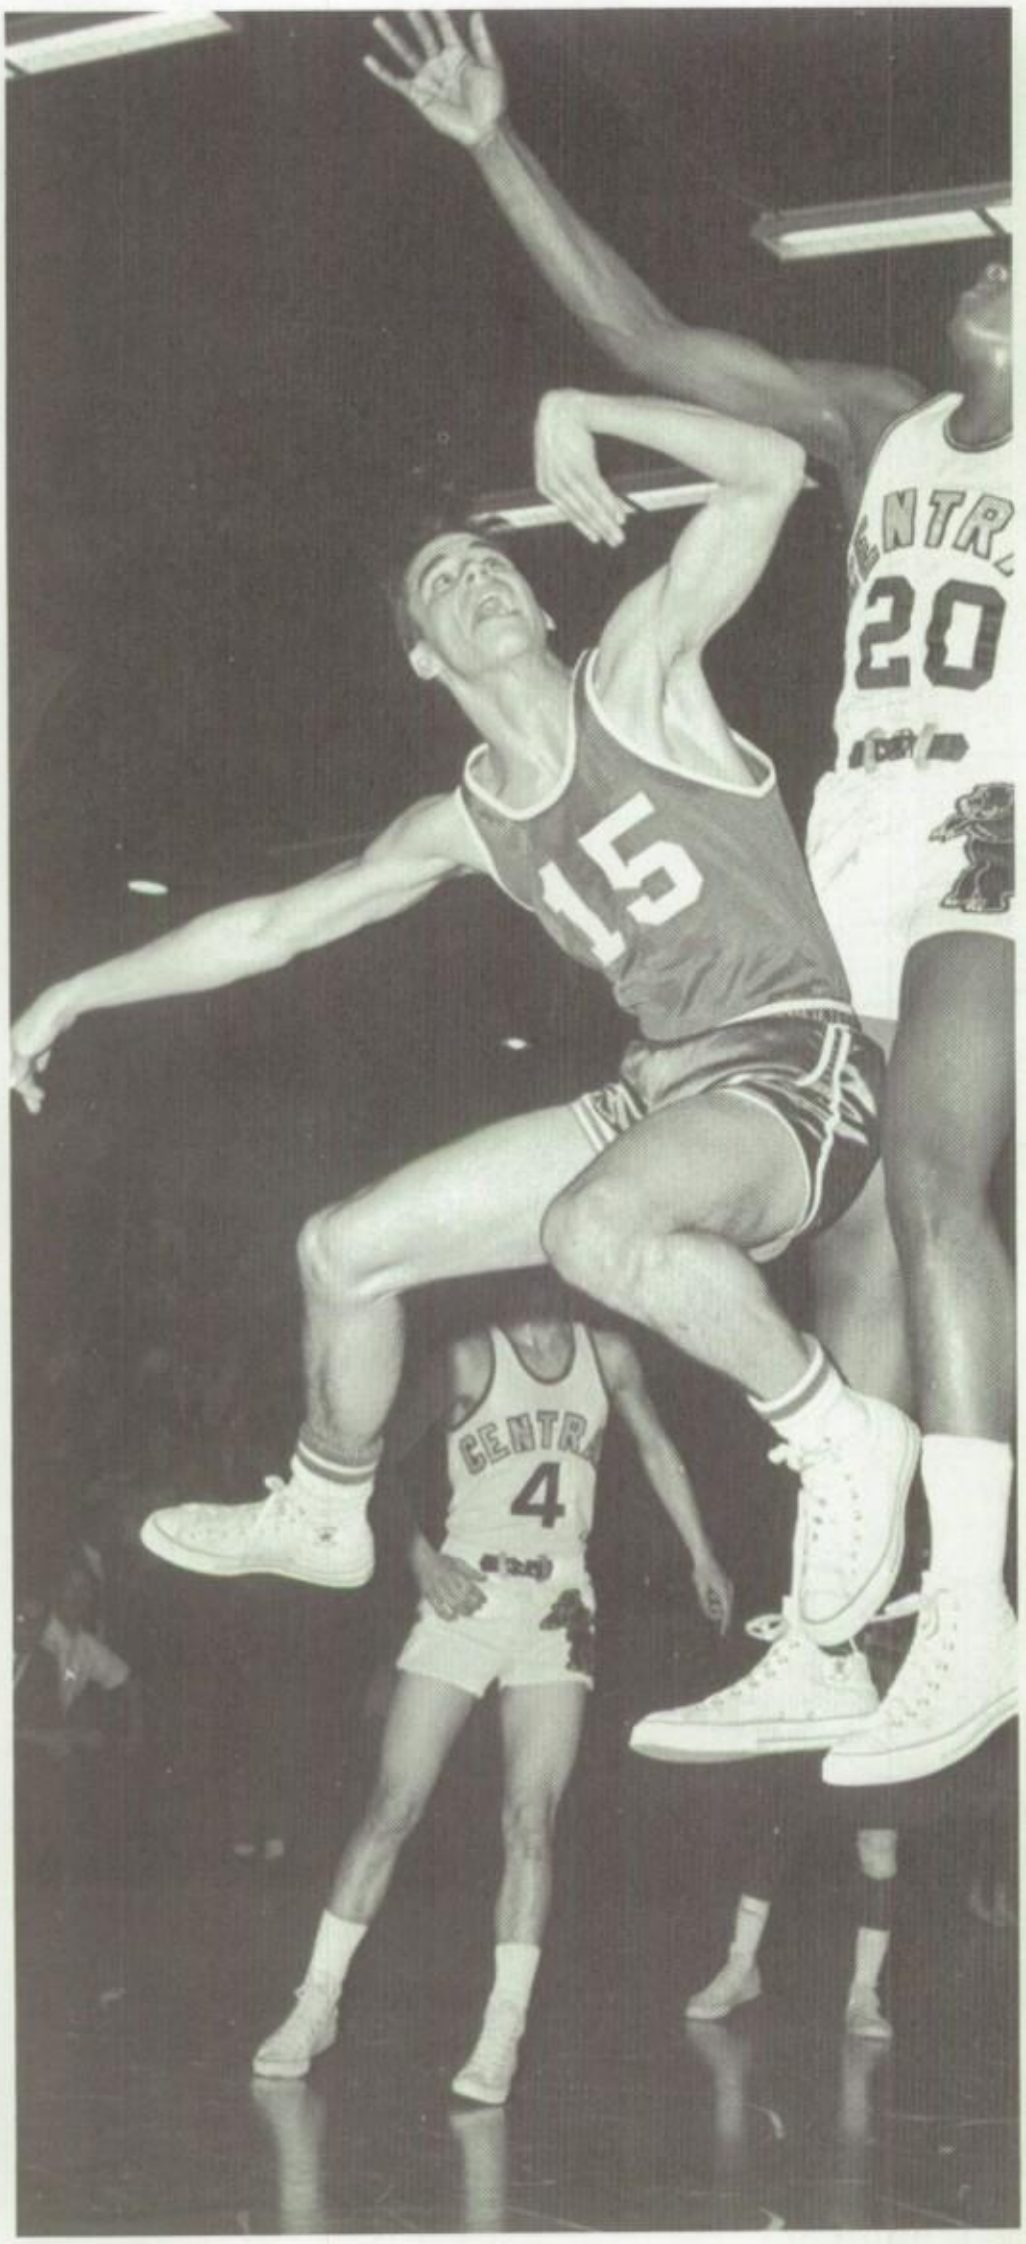
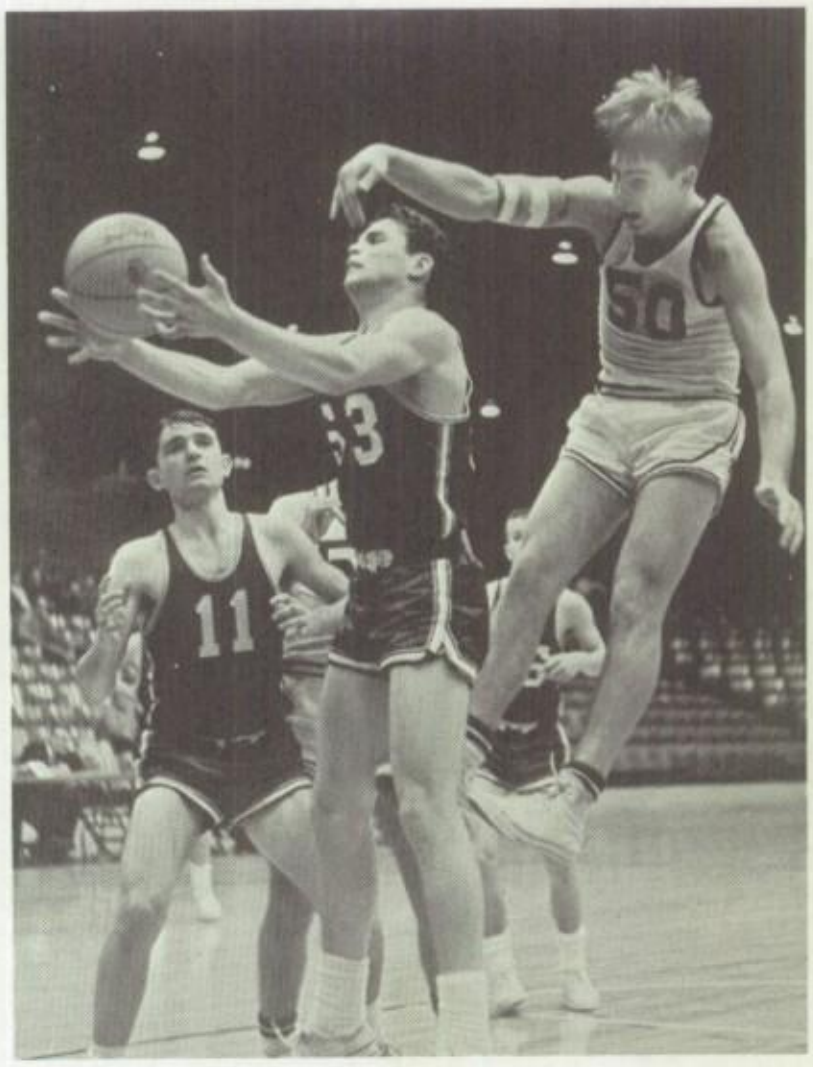
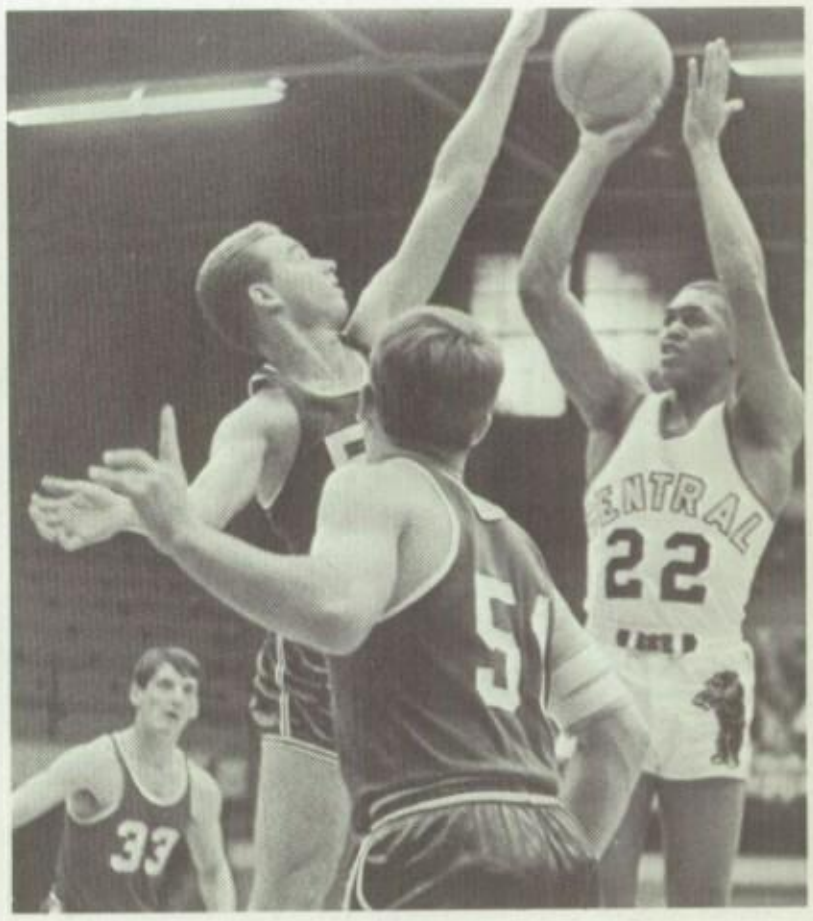
Champs Score School's Greatest Win



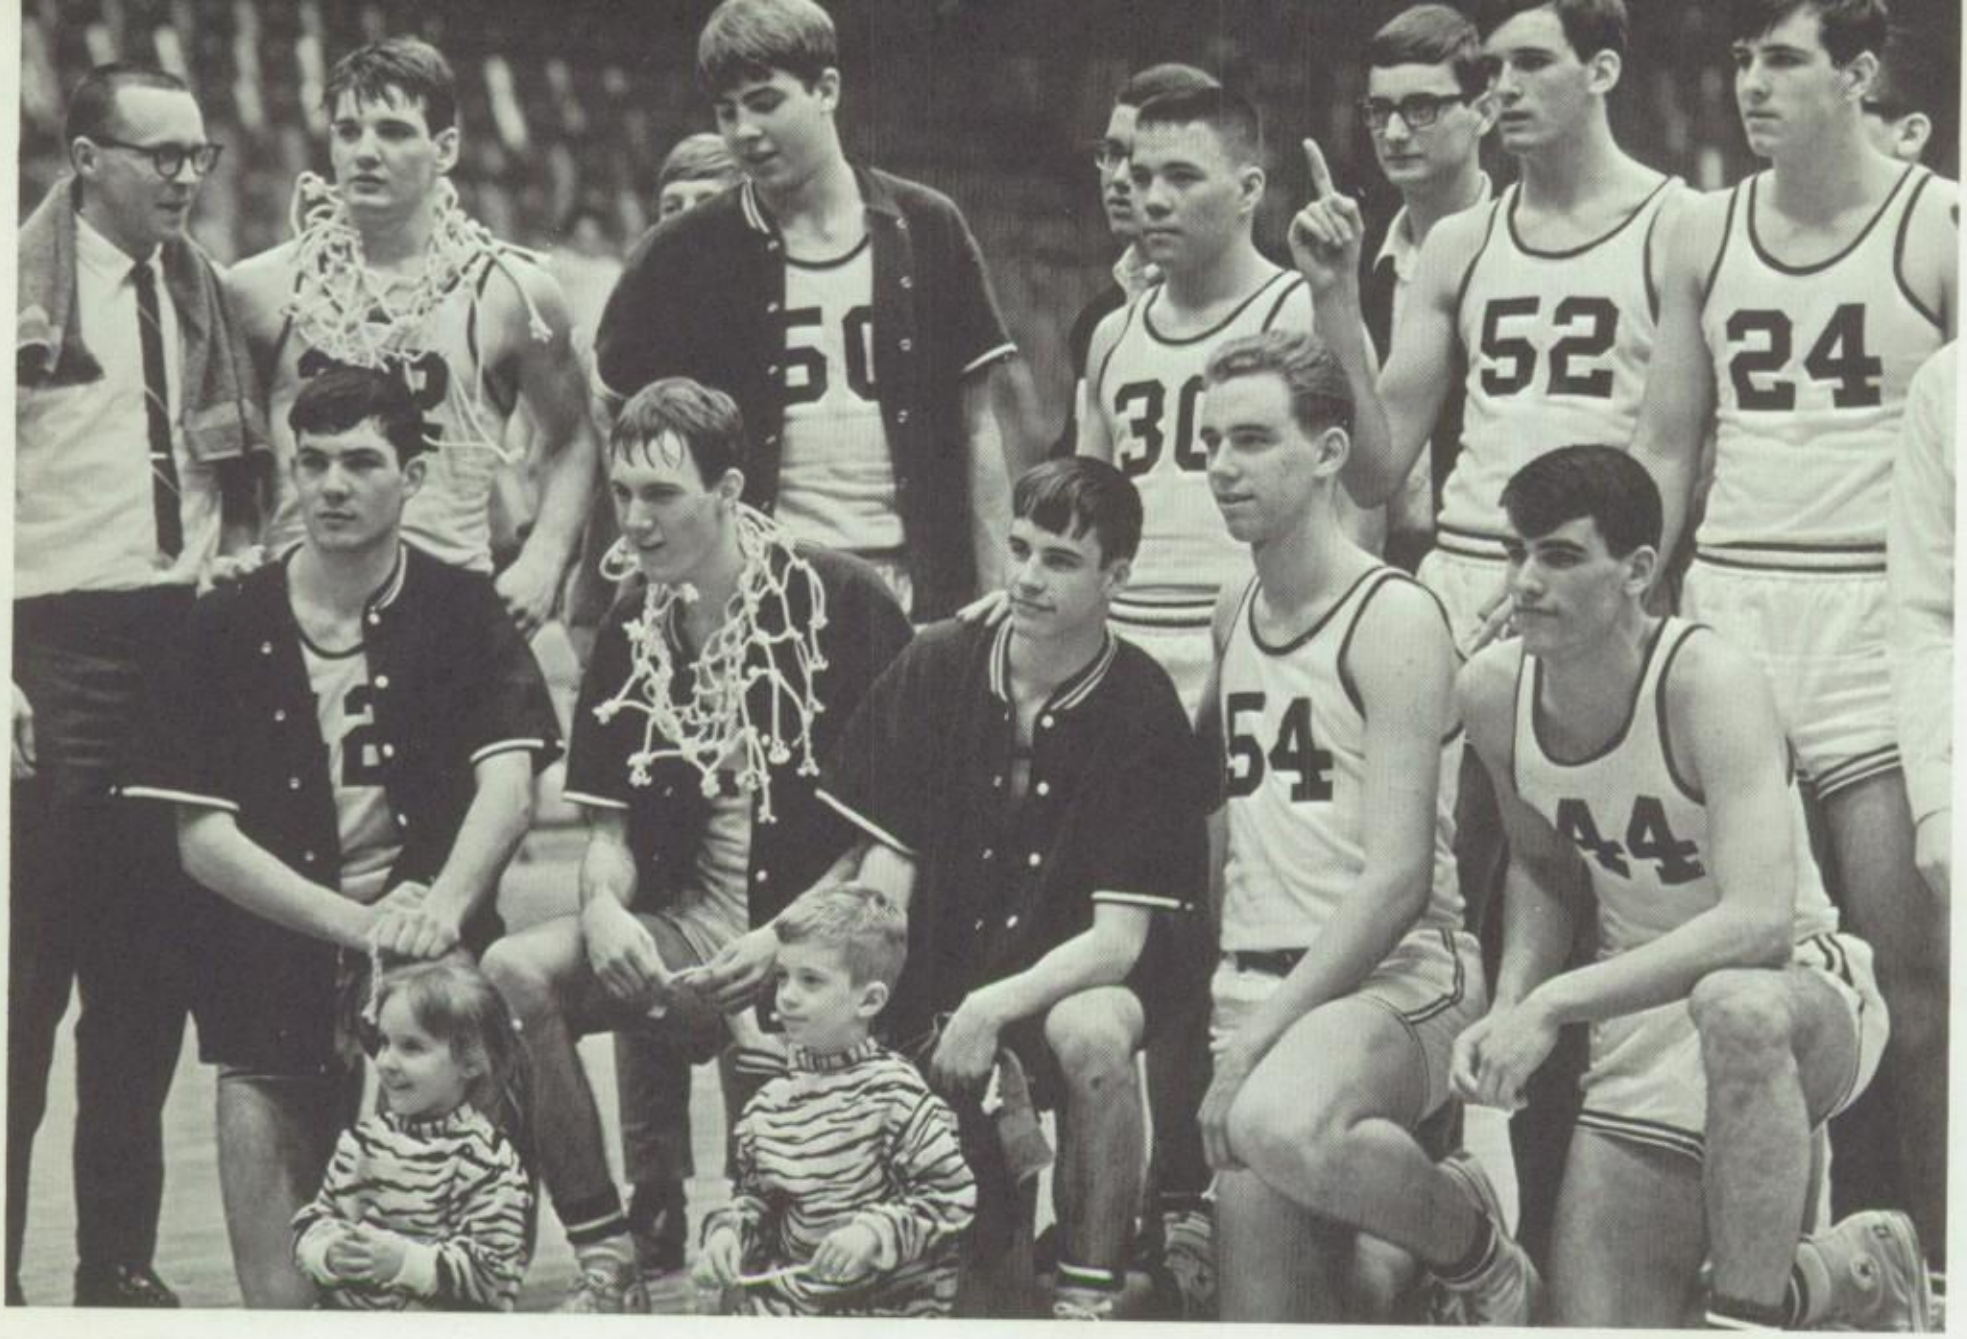
Terry Thomas (15) matches his rebounding ability with a taller Central man.



High-jumping Jeff Stone (50) goes up to knock the ball away from a Reitz ball handler.



With arm outstretched, tall Tim Berger blocks a Central attempt to cash in for their two points.



"We're number one!" The 1966 Sectional and Regional champs are: First row: Allen Williams, Dave Dant, Terry Thomas, Tim Berger, Don Zimmer. Second row: Coach Ron Wannemuehler, Pete Rupp, Jeff Stone, George Schauman, Bill Scheller, Jim Scheller. Back row: Randy McDevitt, Tom Hargrave, student managers Greg Bitz and John Buthod (behind Jim Scheller). Tiger mascots Karen Wannemuehler and Mark Logel share the post-game net-cutting celebration.

Kiwanis award winner Dave Dant (right) assists Tim Berger in giving the Tigers another two pointer as North Posey opponents stand by. Memorial defeated North Posey in Regional play.

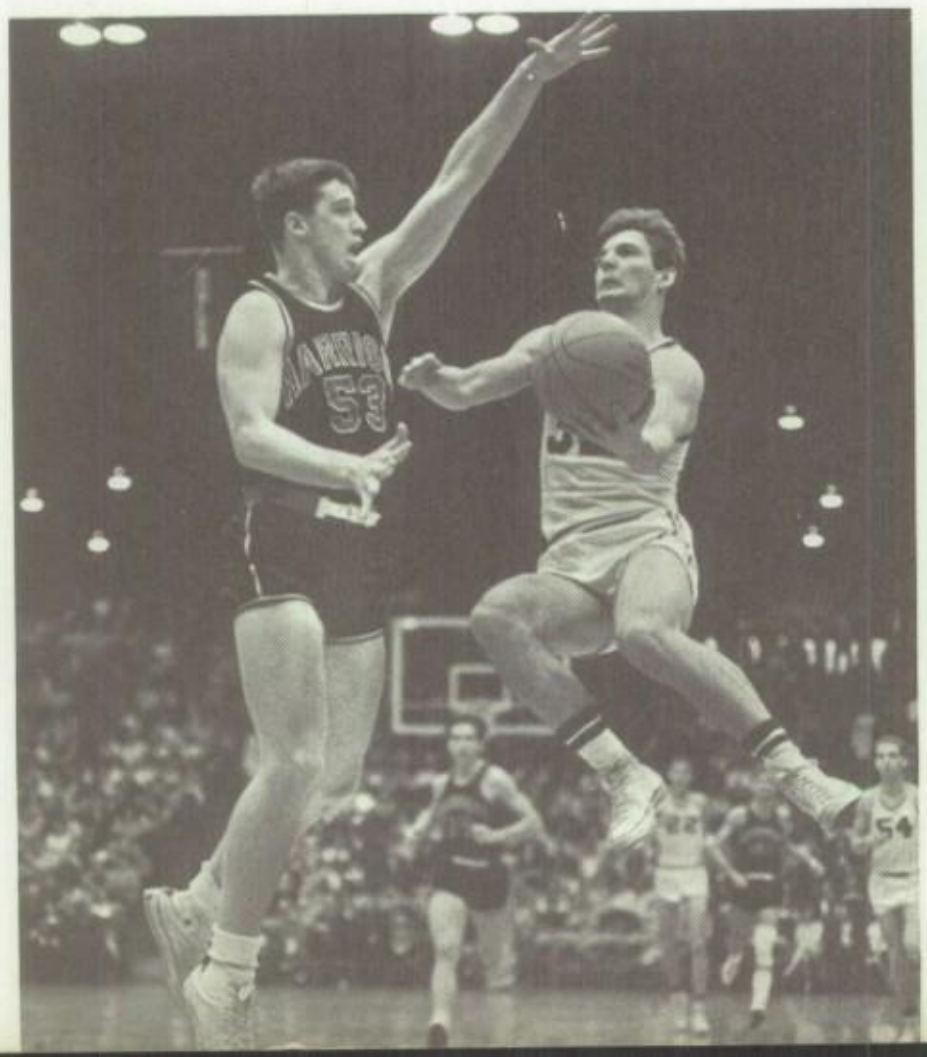
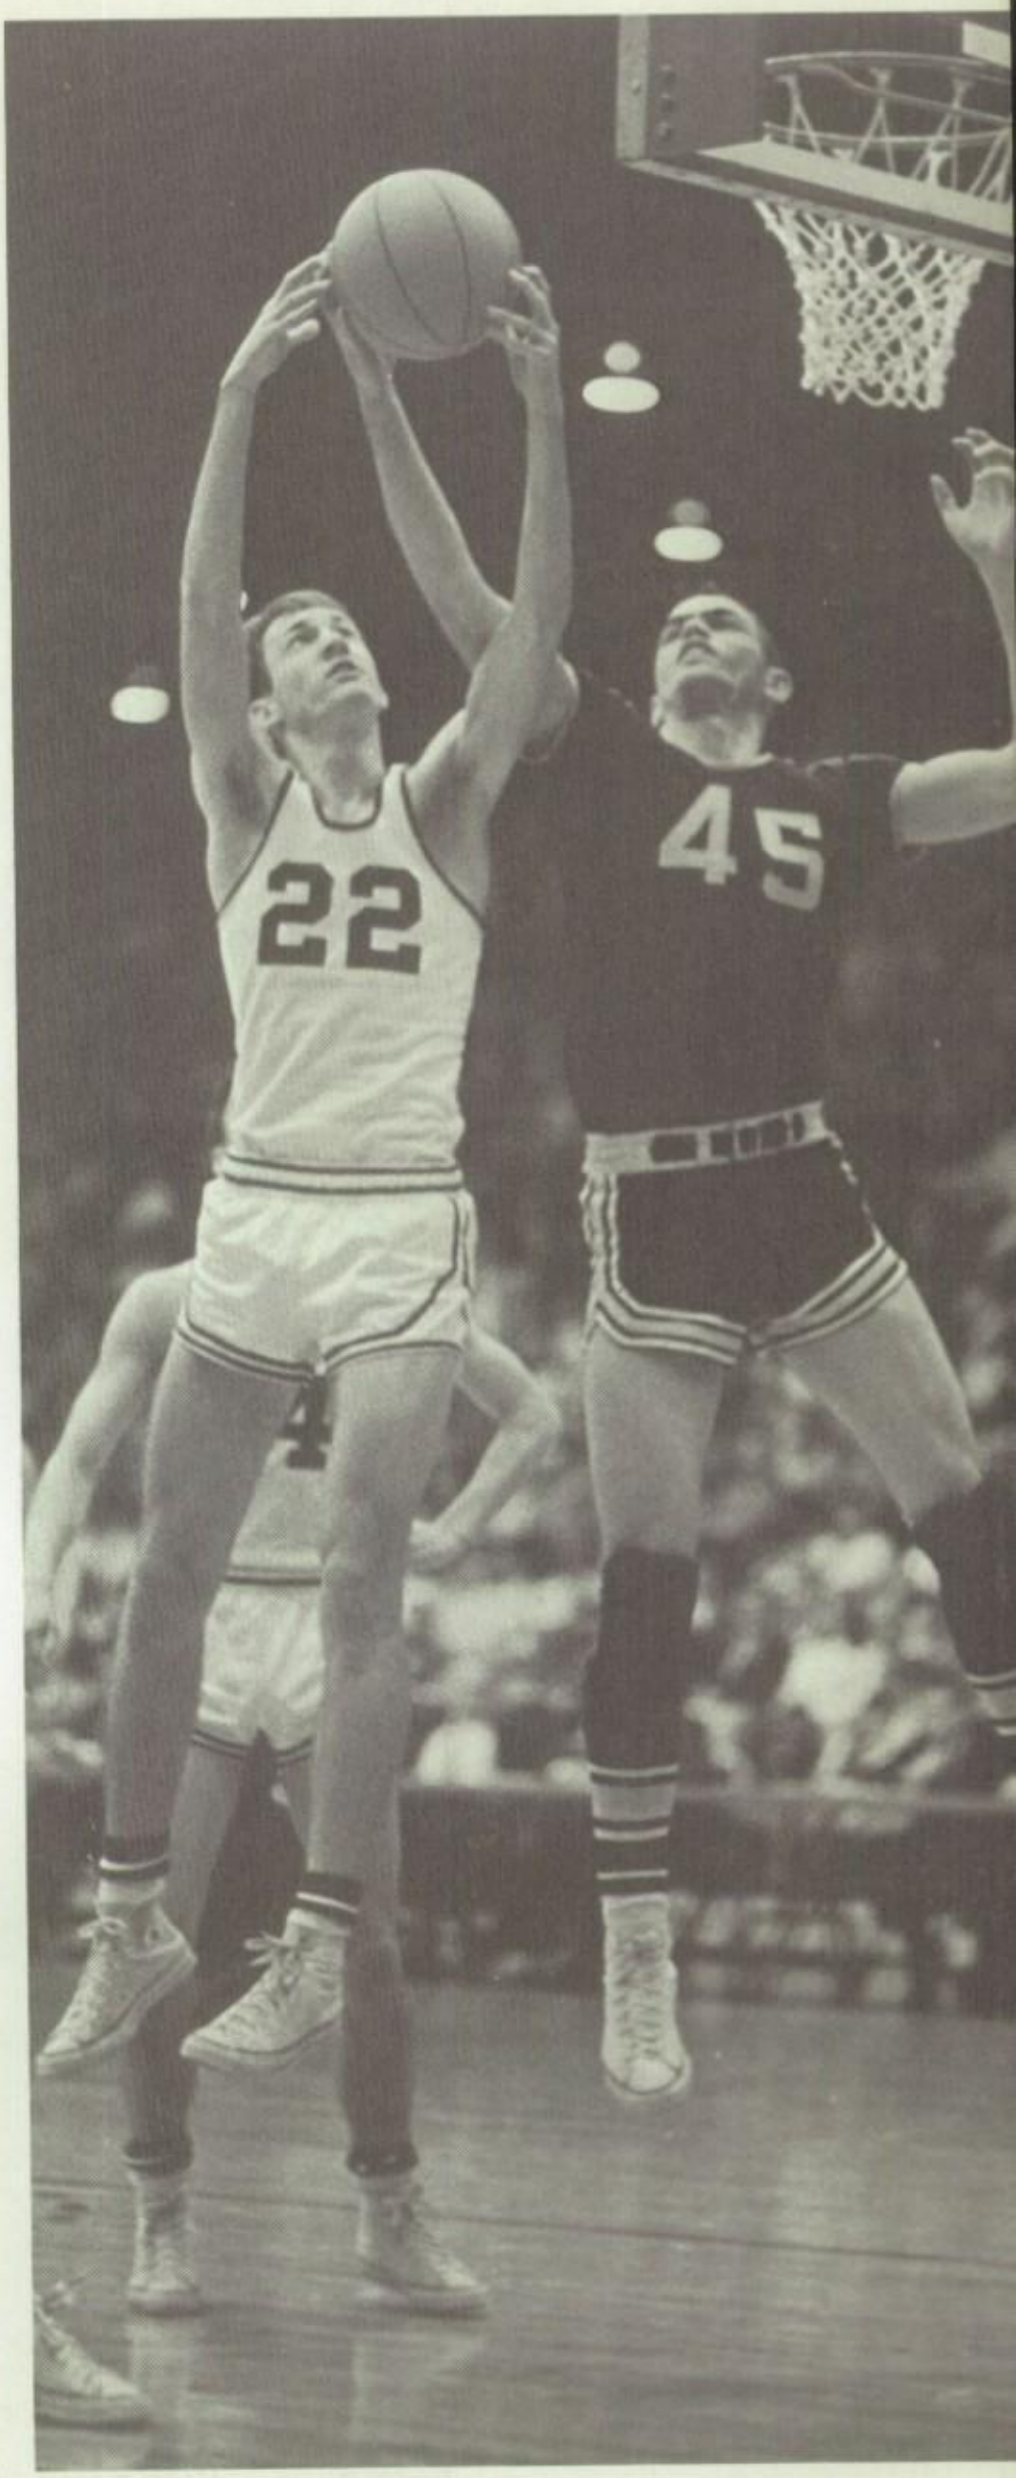
Leading one of the top 16 teams in the state into Semi-State playoffs, Pete Rupp crashes through a "Year of the Tiger" hoop in pre-game ceremonies.

Tiger's Pete Rupp (32) drives past Harrison's Ned Schnacke to make an important basket in the sectional championship game.





Dave Dant jumps high for a rebound despite opposition from Boonville's Roger France. The Tigers secured the Regional title by defeating Boonville Pioneers in the night game.

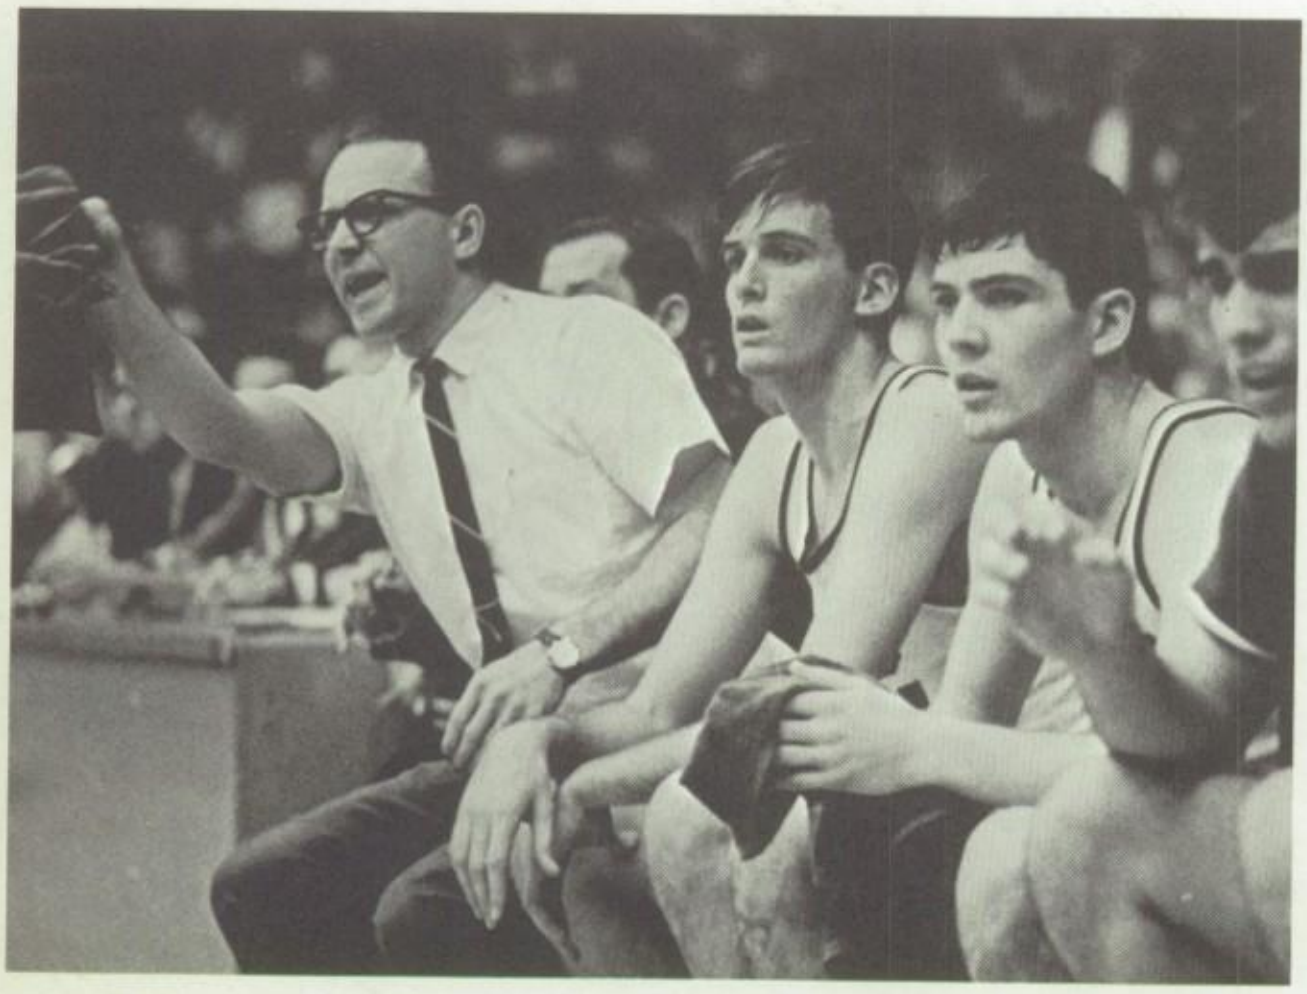
Regional Title Leads to Semi-State



With fingers crossed and towels clinched, Don Zimmer, Allen Williams and Bill Scheller tensely watch team members battle for the Regional crown while Coach Ron Wannemuehler yells encouragement to his players.

The name of the game was basketball and the word of the season was win, for it was "The Year of the Tiger."

For the first time in the history of the school, Memorial captured the Sectional crown by stunning Central, Rex Mundi and the favored Harrison Warriors, three teams which had previously beaten the Tigers in the regular season. The Tigers clawed North Posey and Boonville in Regional play to gain another first for the school.

Backed by an enthusiastic student body, the balanced Memorial team used their height, strength, talent and will to win to guide the Tigers through a successful regular season and spectacular tournament play.

Bowling Teams Circle Wednesdays

Heading Memorial's 14 bowling teams, which meet each Wednesday afternoon at Willow Lanes, are bowling officers: Ann Wilson, president; Lynda Folz, secretary; Martha Wilsbacher, treasurer.

Aiming for a strike is senior bowler Carolyn TenBarge.

Senior Pam Kissel steps her way toward an intended spare.

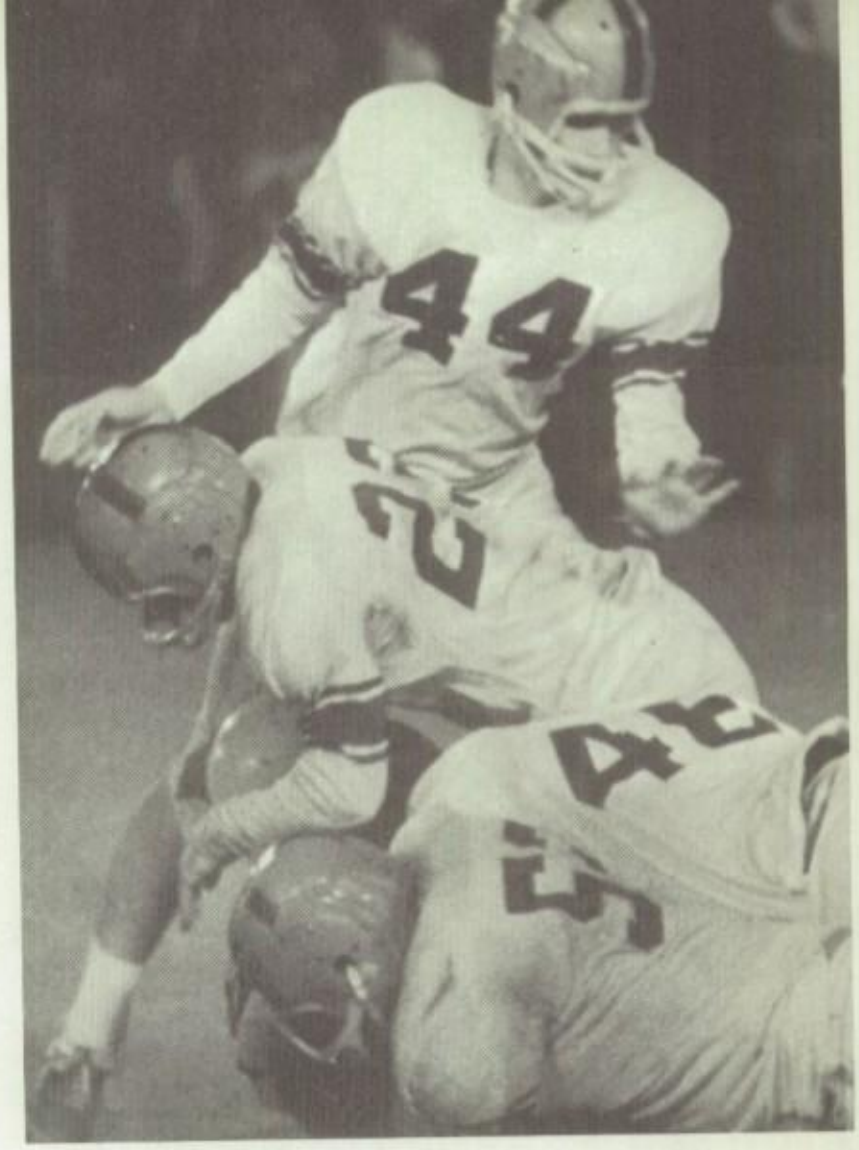
Fast moving Leonard Winiger executes a good move and reverses his man in the Harrison match.

All-City Members

Memorial's Jim Hauke spills a Rex Mundi ball-carrier with a jolting tackle.



Charging Tiger linemen Tom Bailey (44), Jerry Cambron (23), Tom Buedel (46) and Paul Gerhardt (52) crash through to smother the Rex Mundi quarterback behind the line.

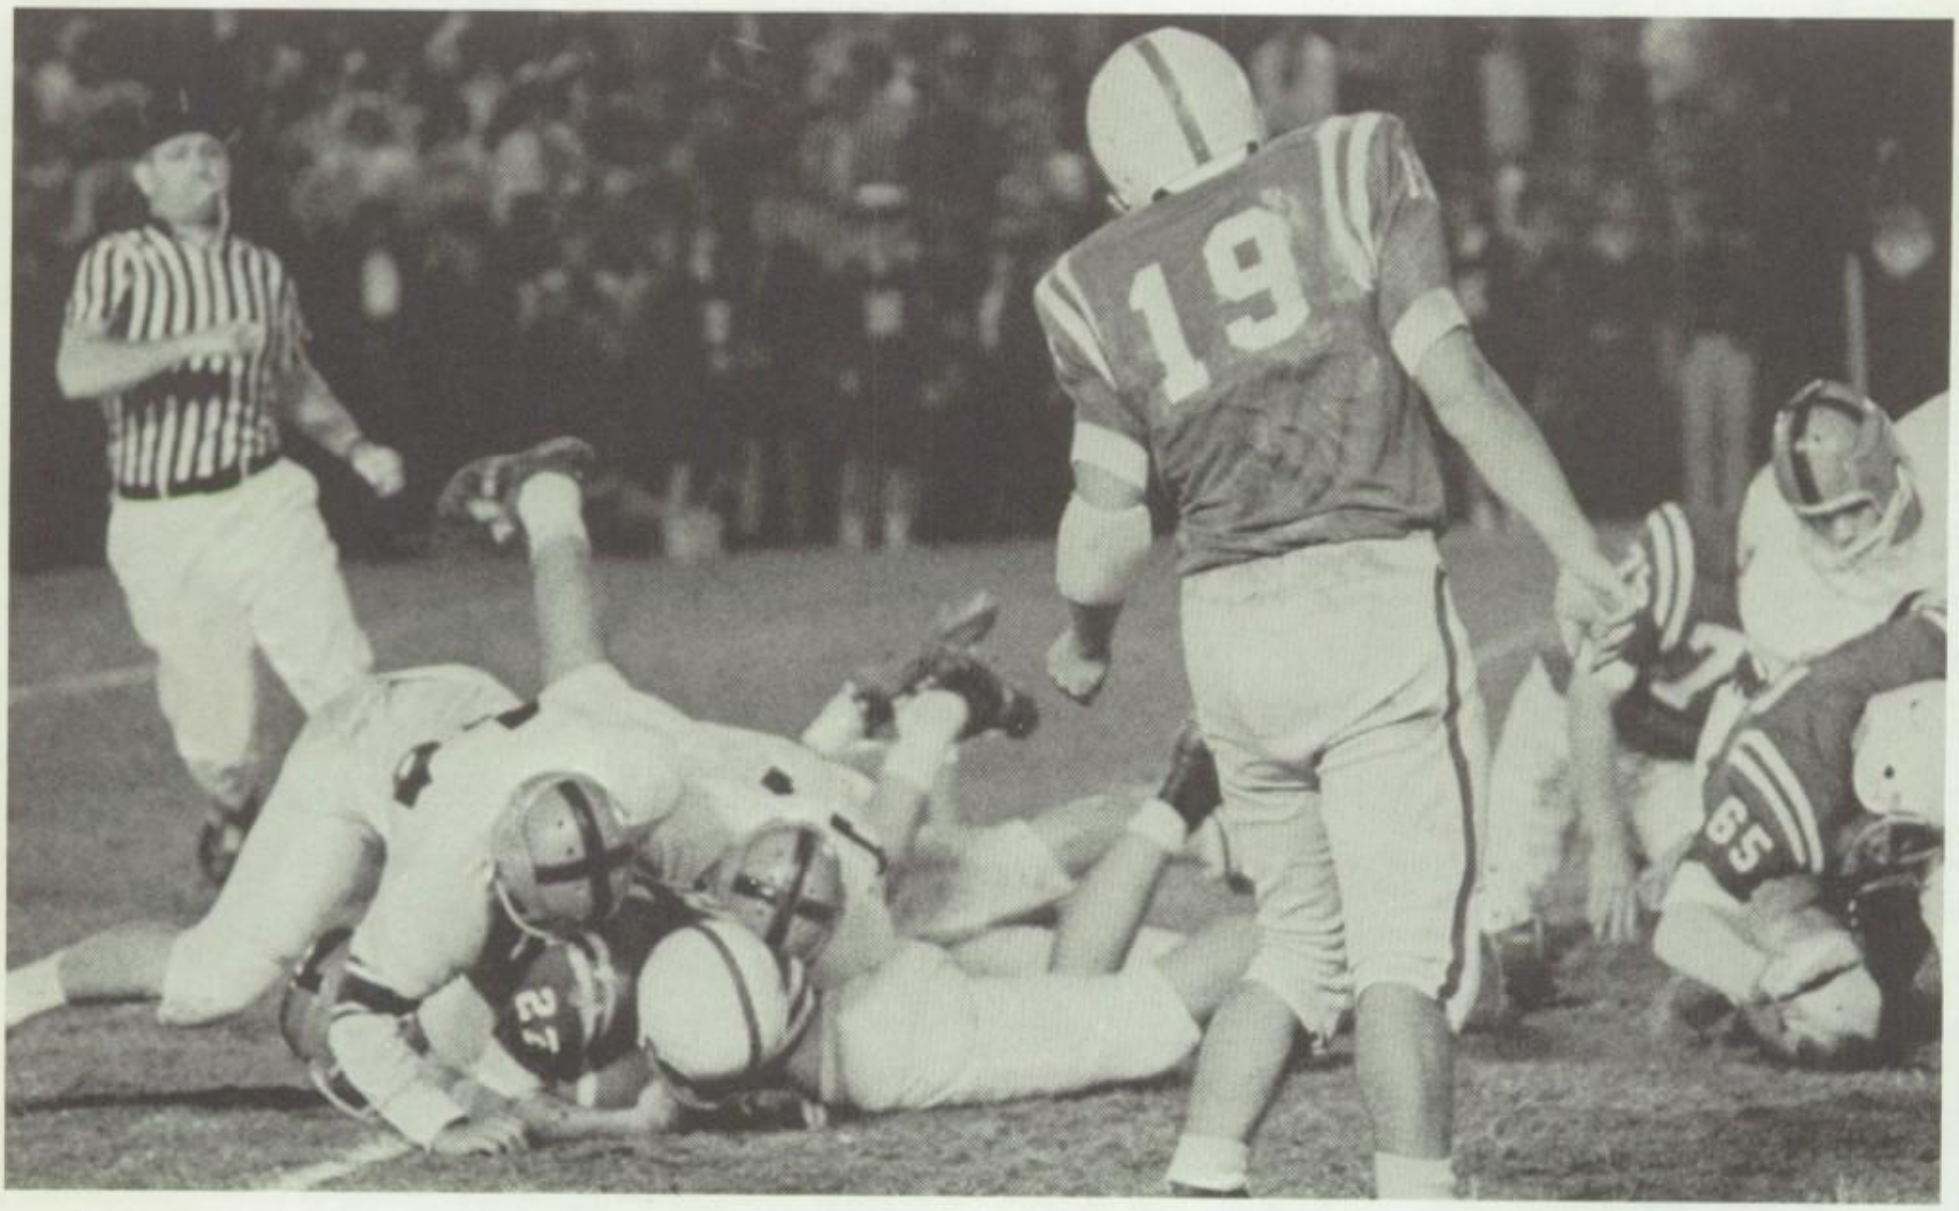
Six Tigers Hold Season Honors as



Tom Bailey and Jeff Stone pile up North's Doug Atherton for no gain.

Junior Tom Hargrave (31) shows his ability as a ball-carrier as he shakes off a tackler and gains extra yards against Rex Mundi.

Roger Crane (26) closes in on a North ball-carrier to prevent a would-be touchdown.

Defense Line Is Threat to Opponents

Tigers Tom Hargrave (31), Tom Bailey (44) and Paul Gerhardt (52) chase down North's quarterback Abe Krause.

Keith Austin snags a pass and races for the end zone, pursued by three Rex Mundi defenders.

After taking a hand-off from quarterback Mike Hobgood, Pete Rupp turns on the speed to break into the clear.

Tigers'

Championship

It's a loose ball, and Memorial and Harrison players scramble to recover it.

After losing the season's opening game to Harrison, Memorial came back to win the City and SIAC football crown. Boosted by a renewed school spirit, the Tigers tied only one game, North, along the road to championship.

Posters were found throughout the school prior to a game, evidence of the student body's backing of the team.

Much of the year's success is attributed to the leadership of Coach Logel, who taught his boys not only to be good players and good sports but also gentlemen.

The referee signals another Tiger touchdown. An enthusiastic crowd roars its appreciation.

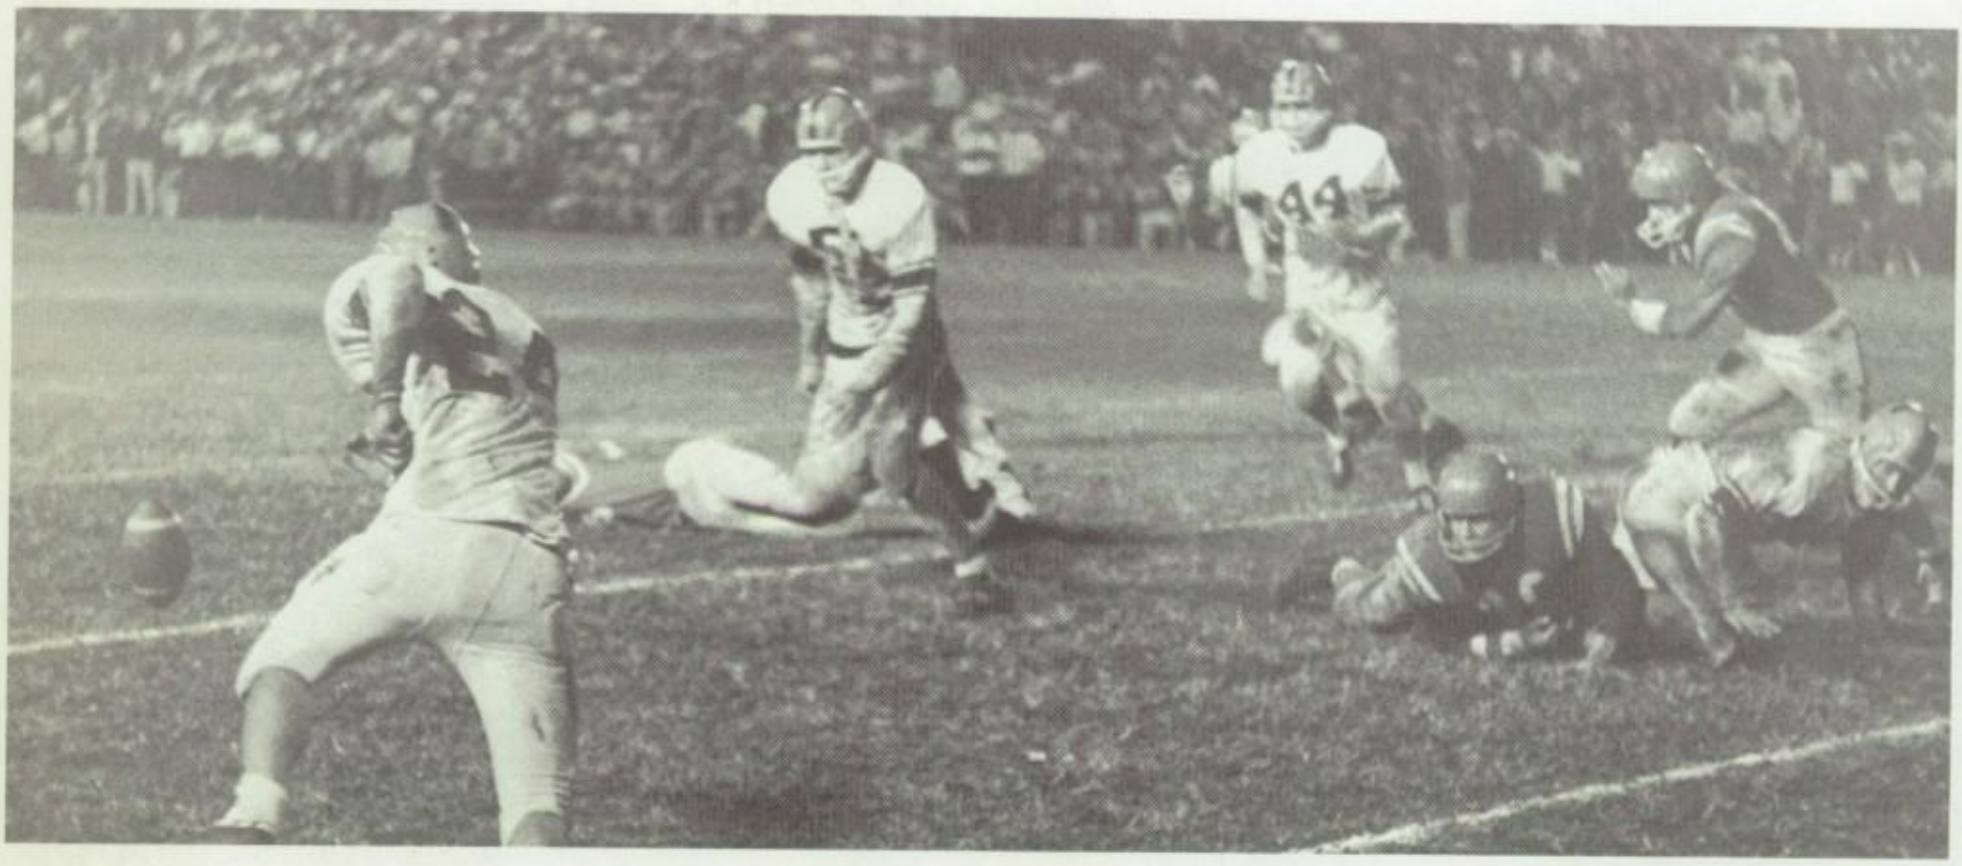
Hard-Fighting Tigers Win SIAC



Keith Austin (24) moves in to scoop up a fumble as team mates Allen Williams (52) and Tom Bailey (44) prepare to lead interference.

Jerry Cambron (23) tries to avoid two oncoming Rex Mundi tacklers.

A Rex Mundi tackler tries to halt Robbie Kent's bid for extra yardage as Mike Hobgood (47) comes from behind.

Arranging a southern garden set for the fall musical, "The American Songbag," are stage crew members Sylvia Beyerstedt, Cathy Klingle, Peggy Nolen and Cathy Crouch.

"One, two, three — pull!" Ropes are manipulated by stage crew hands Bernie Montgomery, Mike Kessler, Joe Stoltz and Joe Hartmann.

Father of the Bride Recalls Experiences

Father of the bride, Kenny Rogers, gives approval to daughter Kay played by Sherry Heathcott as her mother, portrayed by Roberta Van Hoy, adjusts her bridal veil. The three-act comedy, "Father of the Bride," directed by Miss Schroeder, was presented Feb. 27.

Overworked secretary Marty Theby vents her grievances to Kenny Rogers. (Center) Kenny Rogers finally succumbs to nervous exhaustion while Roberta Van Hoy and Jerry Miller try in vain to rouse him. (Bottom) Examining Bill Pledger's selection of wedding cakes are Jerry Miller, Kenny Rogers and Roberta Van Hoy.

Is Year-long Production

The making of a yearbook is complicated but interesting work. Planning 200 pages of pictures, layouts and copy is a year-long production filled with many after-school and weekend hours.

Awarded the top rating of "All. Catholic" from the Catholic School Press Association for the Review 1965, the yearbook also holds membership in the National Scholastic Press Association.

Going over their work with editor Sheila Bolduc (center) are Mary Susan Phipps, Mary Lou Stonecipher, Richard Wagner, Kenny Rogers and Jane Lintzenich.

Checking and recording yearbook accounts occupy business staffers Sarah Reitz, Caryl Schroer, Betty Sutherland and typist Brenda Blair.

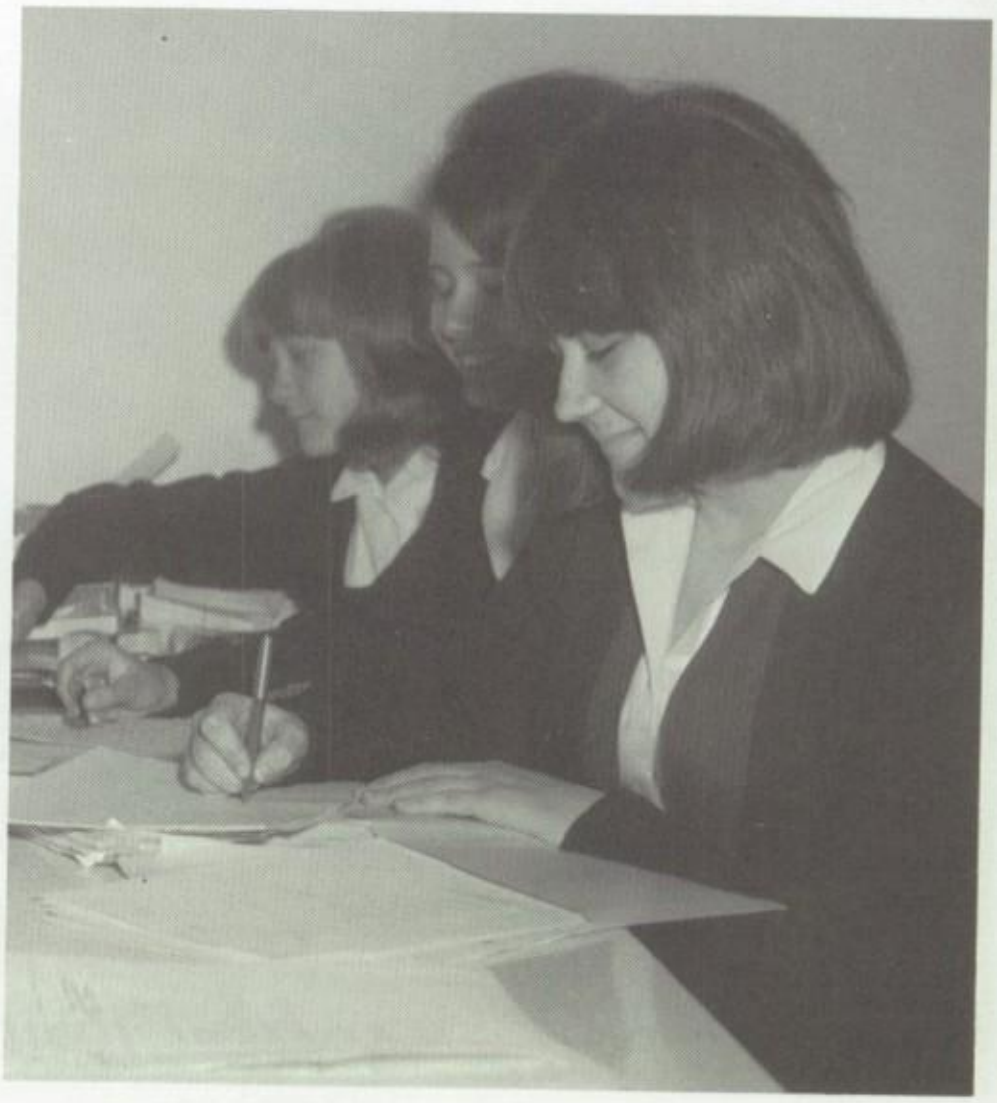
Sports writers Kevin O'Kane and Pete McDonald meet with Copy staff members Donna Evinger, Anne Kayser, Betty Ann Fritsch, copy editor Paula Winzeler, and Ellen Corcoran in preparation for the Review's first deadline.

Contributors of high school news in the Courier and the Press are Debbie Kempf, Ann Royster and Barbara Browning.



Teen news correspondents for the Register and the Press are Michele Richmond, Suzanne Groszek and Mary Getty.

Even after a long day of working in the cafeteria and cleaning classrooms and halls, Mrs. Marcella Smith is always ready with a friendly smile.

Mr. Robert Barnes, in charge of maintenance, may be found keeping the furnace going, repairing broken fixtures or filling the coke machine.

The cafeteria line keeps moving at a steady pace as Mrs. Charles Wolf handles the cash register end of the line efficiently and speedily each noontime.

Loyal Workers Provide for Our Comfort

Each day Type A meals are prepared by cafeteria ladies: Mrs. Theresa Wirthwein, Mrs. Margaret Evinger, Mrs. Betty Egbert, Mrs. Alma Dilger, Mrs. Marie Perkins, Mrs. Margaret Halbig and Mrs. Gladys Altmeyer.

Library Aides Give Extra Time to Others

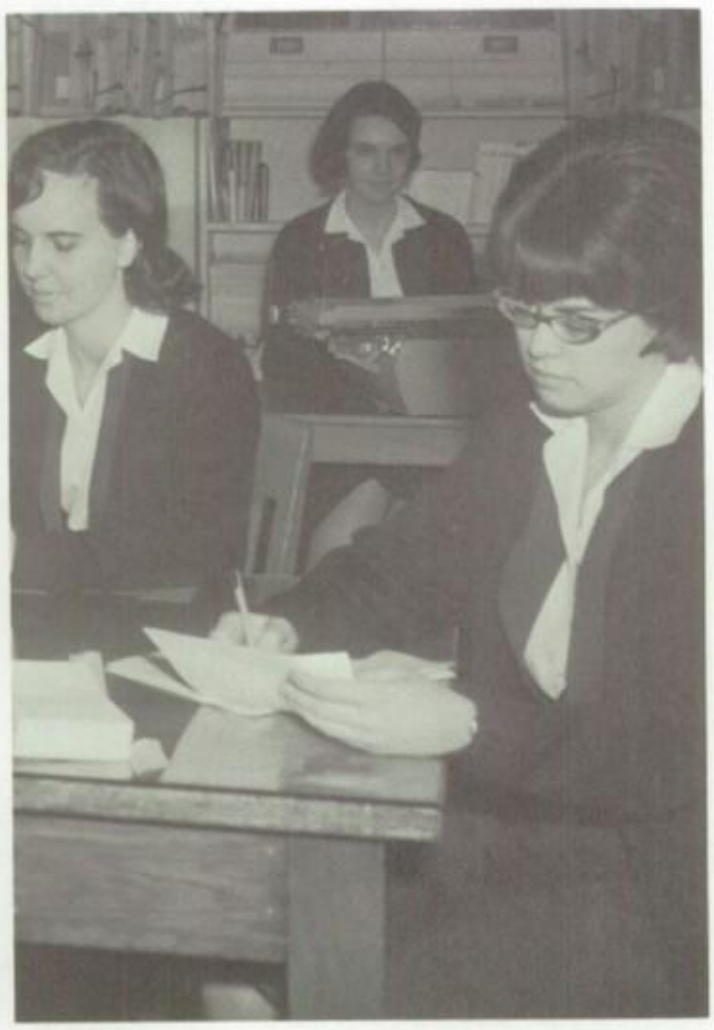
Library aides Clara Lopez, Barbara Brockman, Linda Vincent and Sherry Heathcott take care of book circulation.

Rebecca Raibley and Karen Farrar make sure that overdue books are returned in addition to reshelving them.

Taking time out from checking magazines to look over some new issues are aides Carolyn Schneider, Linda Schneider and Anna Lopez.

Marion Hite looks over a new book while Vera Manning checks the card catalog.

Through Year-round Activities

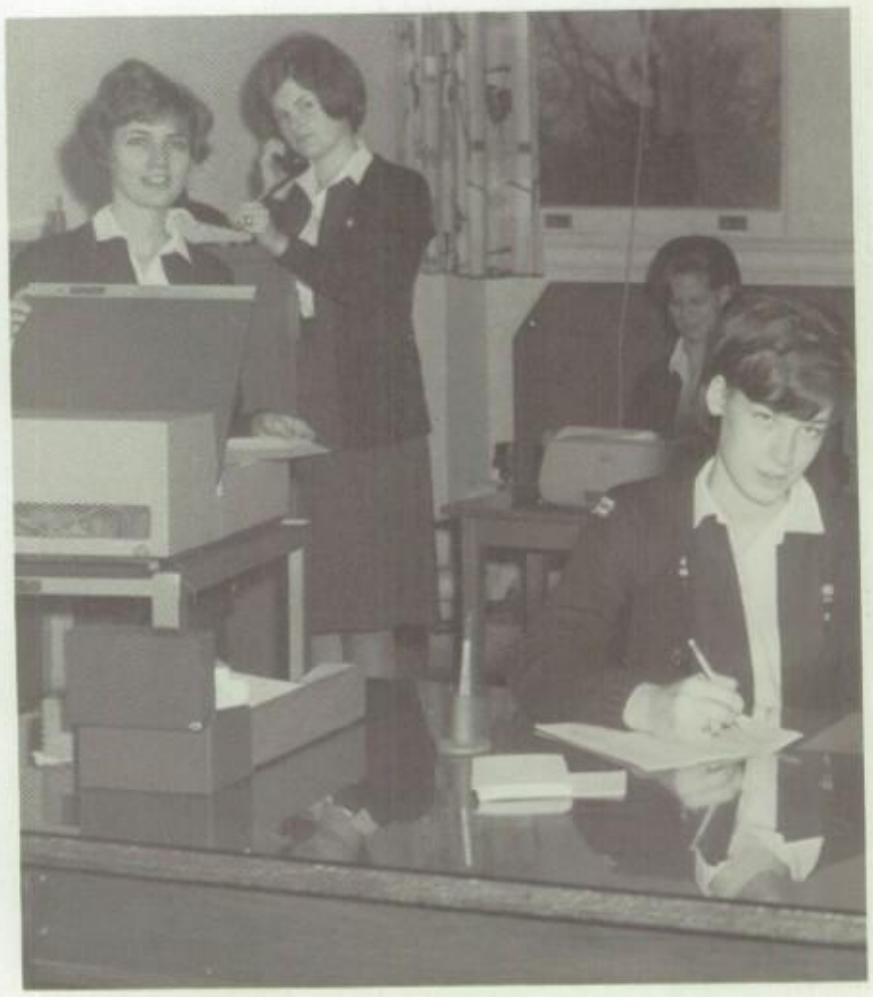


Office workers Judy Peak, Megan Coke and Linda Kissel assist during their free period.

Tim Berger and Jane Lintzenich help keep things running smoothly in the Athletic Office.

Athletic office workers Judy Denton and Terry Thomas assist with athletic business.

Under the leadership of Mari Lynn Bagwell, president, Pat McCluskey, secretary, Jean Schiff, vice-president, Red Cross members contribute to the community through many activities including volunteer work at the State Hospital and the Little Sisters of the Poor.



Helping Sister Helene with typing and filing in the office during their study periods are Anne Kayser, Ruth Ulrich, Susie Spalding and Marty Theby.

Students Serve Their School and Community

Office workers Bud Smith, Danny Miller, Steve Pike, Joe Yeiser, Ted Spaetti, Joe Stolz and Mark Mattingly give time to assist in the boys' office.

By serving the school, as in the athletic office, the bookstores and principals' offices, students learn to unite in their work for the good of all.

Service to school can lead later on to taking certain responsibilities in the community.

Already students active in Red Cross discover something of this as they plan and prepare projects including the annual Christmas stuffed animal drive. Girls this year made 711 animals for needy children.

Bookstore assistants Wayne Schimmel and Phil Yunker help Brother Eugene make sales to Dan Kurzendoerfer, Bill Scheu and David Buddrus.

Service to students at the bookroom fills the before-school morning time for Vera Manning.

and Ability Brings Credit to Memorial

Band's Talent

A combination of talent, long hours of practice and hard work contribute to the success of the school band.

Under the direction of Brother Stephen, the band entertains at the half-time of football and basketball games. Concert performances are given during the Christmas program and Spring musical.

The group also participates in various music contests including that sponsored by the Indiana School Music Association.

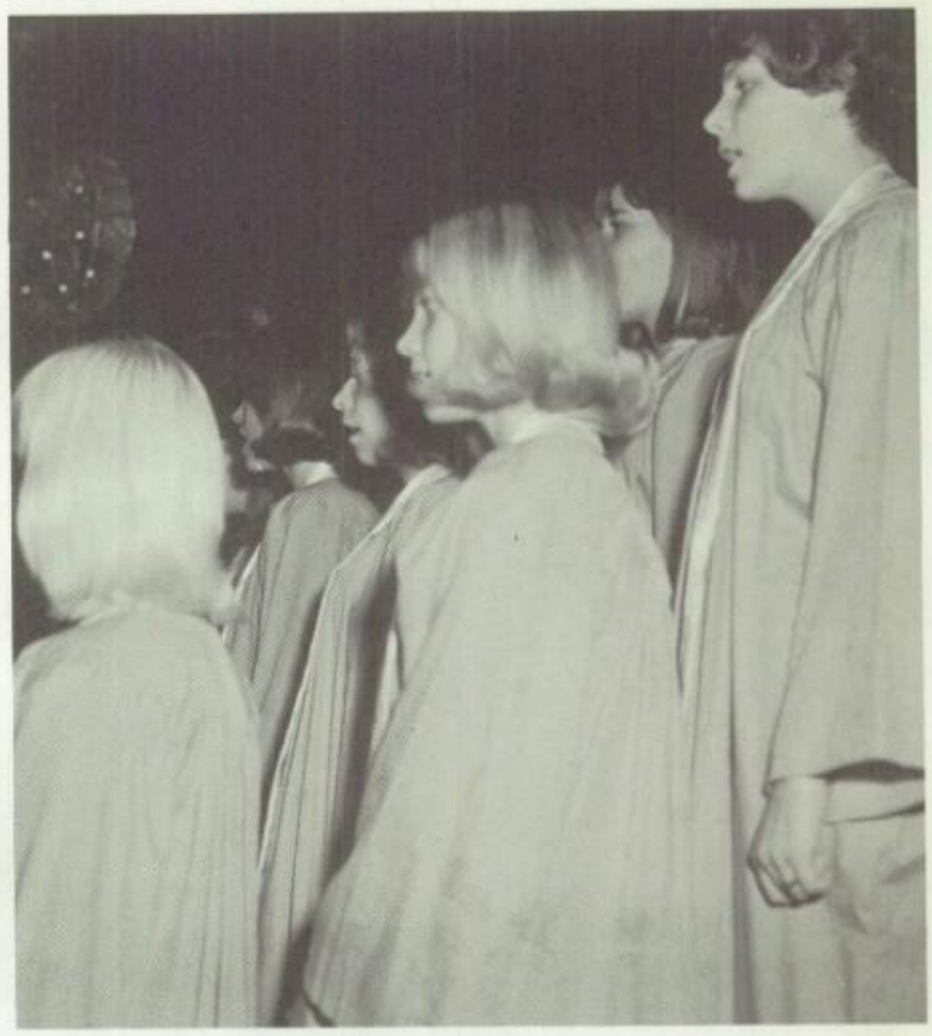
to Musicals

"The Drummer Boy" lives through song at the glee club-band combined Christmas concert.



At a program for Iglehart employees in St. Benedict's auditorium, the Concert Choir presents a group of American Christmas carols.

The Concert Choir adds charm to "The American Songbag" with a medley of traditional Southern songs set in the garden of a stately plantation.

Concert Choir Adds Color and Talent

The war-torn and ravaged South retained her position as "the birthplace of American culture" through the haunting melodies sung a cappella by the Concert Choir in "The American Songbag."

Glee Club secretaries Barbara Kayser and Jane Cunningham take care of attendance check.

Vice president Sherry Heathcott and president Micky O'Leary help with behind-the-scenes business.

"Jeannie with the Light Brown Hair" sets the theme for a ballet by Yvonne Mills and Madeleine Buthod.

From the colonial and early pioneer periods, songs of America's history come alive through the sophomore glee club. Indian dancers depicting this era are Denise Stallings, Sherry Heathcott, Sandy Murphy, Charleen Browning, Linda Ensner, Georgia Fox, Janet Merrick and Mary Jo Hopper.

Heritage in Glee Club Musical

A military drill performed by Stephanie Voda, Donna Ensner, Kathy Fehn, Becky McDonald, Paulette Kissel, Rosie Iaccarino, Andrea Weigele, Susie Gorman, Jane Cunningham, Ellen Sheets, Jean Schiff and Debbie Ellsperman adds color to the freshman glee club's medley of American marches and patriotic songs.

In the November musical, "The American Songbag," the glee club juniors and seniors presented songs of an expanding country during the 1800's. A lively square dance was performed by Candy Ploch, Sally Gorman, Connie Kessler, Ann Foster, Martha O'Daniel, Nancy Biggs, Mary Kay Grief and Carol Hacker.

'The American Songbag' Traces American

The sea chantey "Blow the Man Down" creates a lively setting for sailor girls Barbara Warren, Barbara Carroll, Nancy Slaughter and Stephanie Voda.

The girls' music department offers a wide variety of activities. Three glee clubs with a combined membership of nearly 200 freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors, perform at fall and spring musicals, at a special Christmas program and at semester-end recitals.

The Concert Choir made up of 33 selected voices performs for various civic and social functions and participates in the annual music contests sponsored by the Indiana School Music Association.

In Applied Music private voice and piano lessons are offered.

Engage in Senior Guidance Program

CPA Mr. John F. Berry reviews with his daughter Julie a talk he presented to the senior girls about careers for women in accounting.

Central High School guidance counselor Mrs. Solomon Stevenson answers questions from Martha Wilsbacher and Jane Cusic.

Peace Corps volunteer Miss Katherine Gibson relates some of her experiences in Costa Rica to Ellen Corcoran and Clara Lopez. An admissions office assistant at St. Mary-of-the-Woods College, Miss Gibson also participated in College Night.

Demonstrating some of the work of a dental hygienist, Miss Sarah Helmboch, '61, explained requirements, work and rewards in her chosen profession.

A young wife and mother herself, Mrs. Roberta Seiler Harding, '56, gives senior girls pointers on what to look for in a future husband.

Men, Women from Varied Professions

An early-morning zero-period assembly draws senior girls to a talk on woman's role in the world today.

Founder of the Holidays for Humanity project serving medical needs of people in Central America, Dr. John Slaughter, aided by his niece Nancy Slaughter and Nancy Maurer, prepares to show slides of his work in Honduras.

As part of a guidance program emphasizing the preparation and role of young Christian leaders, senior girls participated in weekly, and sometimes twice-weekly, lecture-discussion sessions conducted by men and women representing a cross-section of careers and service organizations open to the high school graduate.

Current social problems were also included on the early morning, before-school agenda. Among topics discussed were the racial issue and anti-poverty programs.

Seniors also learned of the Christian Family Movement and its Summer Mission Projects open to those seeking to fulfill their Christian social mission to the world.

Getting acquainted with Mrs. Raymond Schweigert (center) are Sharon Lampert, Mrs. John Stephens who with her husband helped engage speakers for the guidance program, Megan Coke and Linda Kissel. Mrs. Schweigert represented the business world in her discussion of secretarial positions.

Driver's Education Trains Safe Citizens

Under the guidance of Mr. Logel, Danny Sullivan learns the essentials of driving safely.

An important part of modern education, Drivers' Education teaches the student safe driving practices and gives him added responsibility.

Student drivers not only learn the vital mechanisms of the automobile but also become acquainted with laws concerning driving procedure and proper conduct for a responsible citizen.

Mr. O'Kane instructs seniors Joan Handley and Charlotte Oberst in responsible driving practices.

Freshmen meet daily for gym classes, the physical aspect of their education.

Warm weather will find the girls out in the fresh air playing highly competitive games as volleyball and softball. During the same seasons the boys are engaged in baseball games, calisthenics and track.

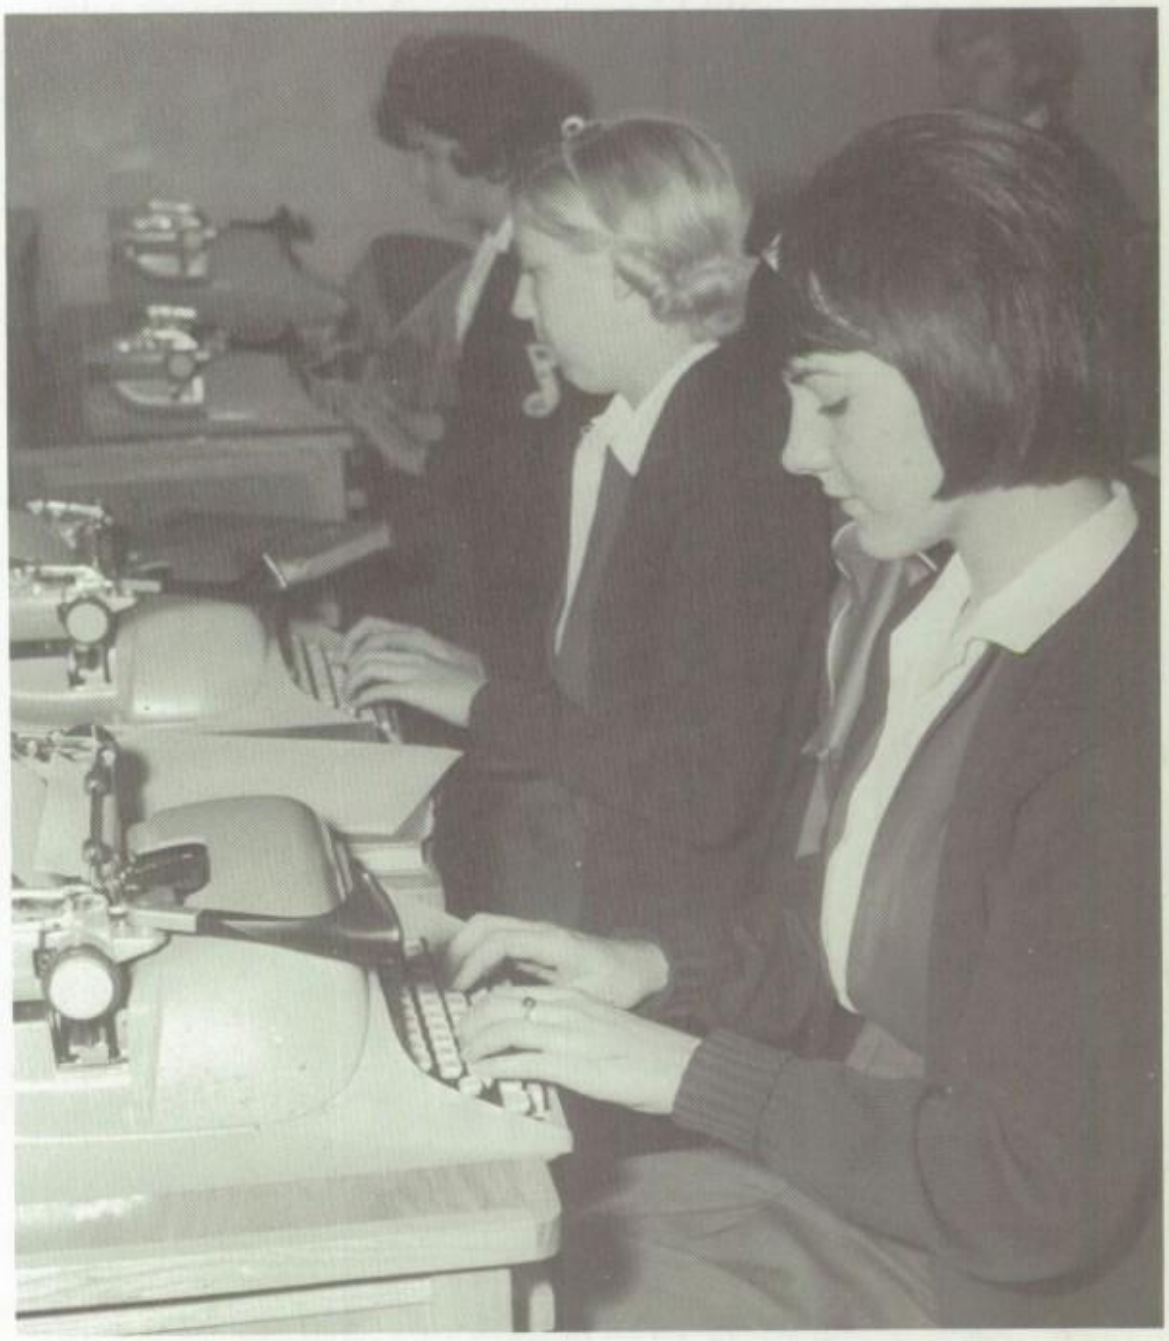
Cooler weather forces the classes indoors where both boys and girls enjoy exciting games of basketball and the competition of relays.

All of these activities teach the principles of good sportsmanship as well as promote the development of good health and physical fitness.

Calisthenics put youthful energy to work in developing coordination. Jumping jacks cast shadow patterns on the outdoor court during fall and spring classes.

Developing typing skills, seniors Phyllis Loehr, Donna Henderson, Martha Wilsbacher and Susie Spalding increase speed and improve accuracy.

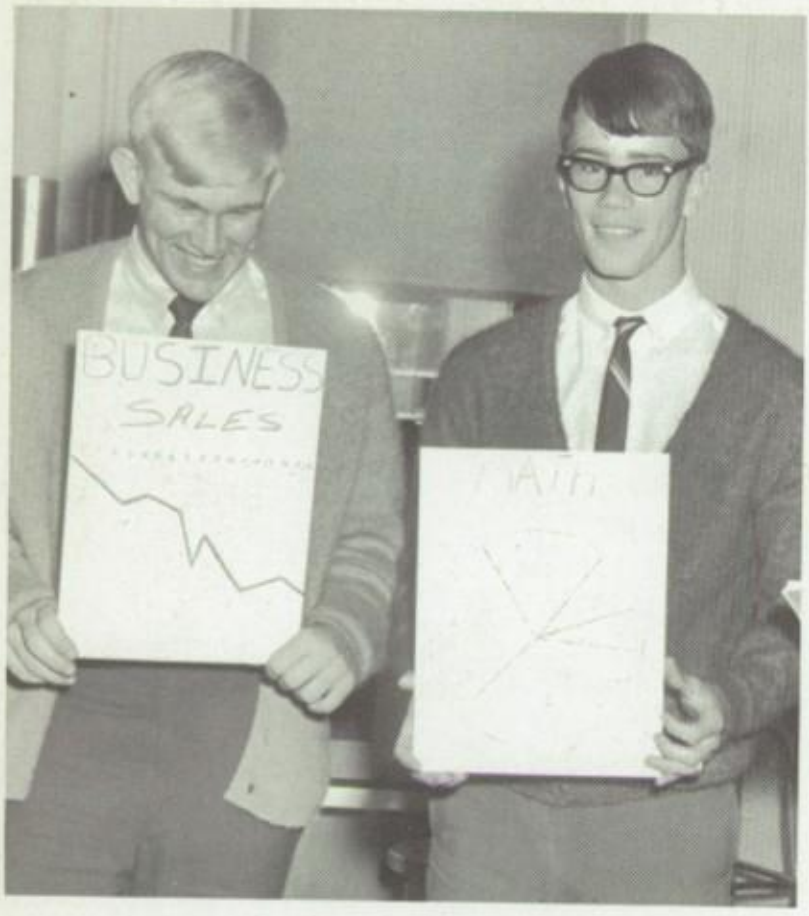
Business World



Learning the fundamentals of typing requires concentration and intense practice by Typing I students Betty Merkley, Pat Lindsay, Nancy Market and Ann Royster (rear).

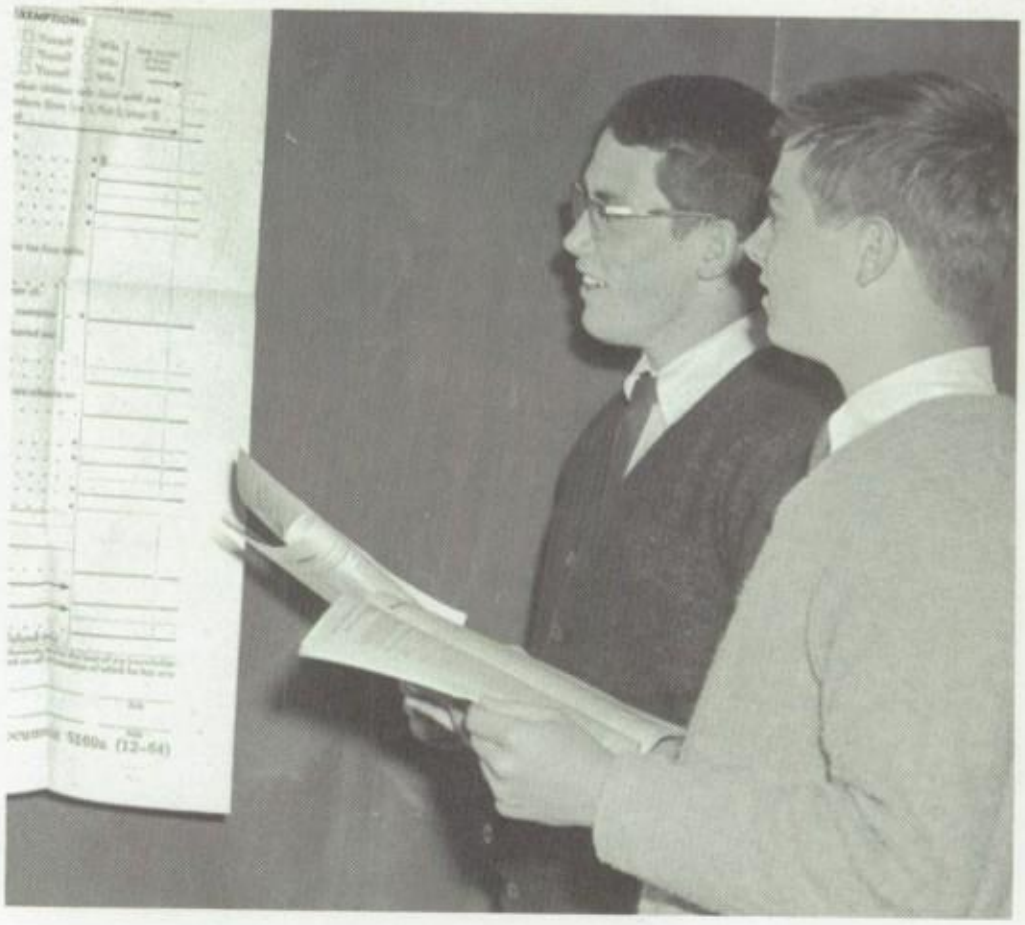
Besides discovering the location of the keys, typing classes also develop a typing rhythm with the aid of music. Students are awarded honor pins for ten-minute tests on which there are no more than five errors.

Shorthand classes drill constantly on the brief forms and do a definite amount of written work each day. They too receive achievement pins for high performance on five-minute dictation tests.

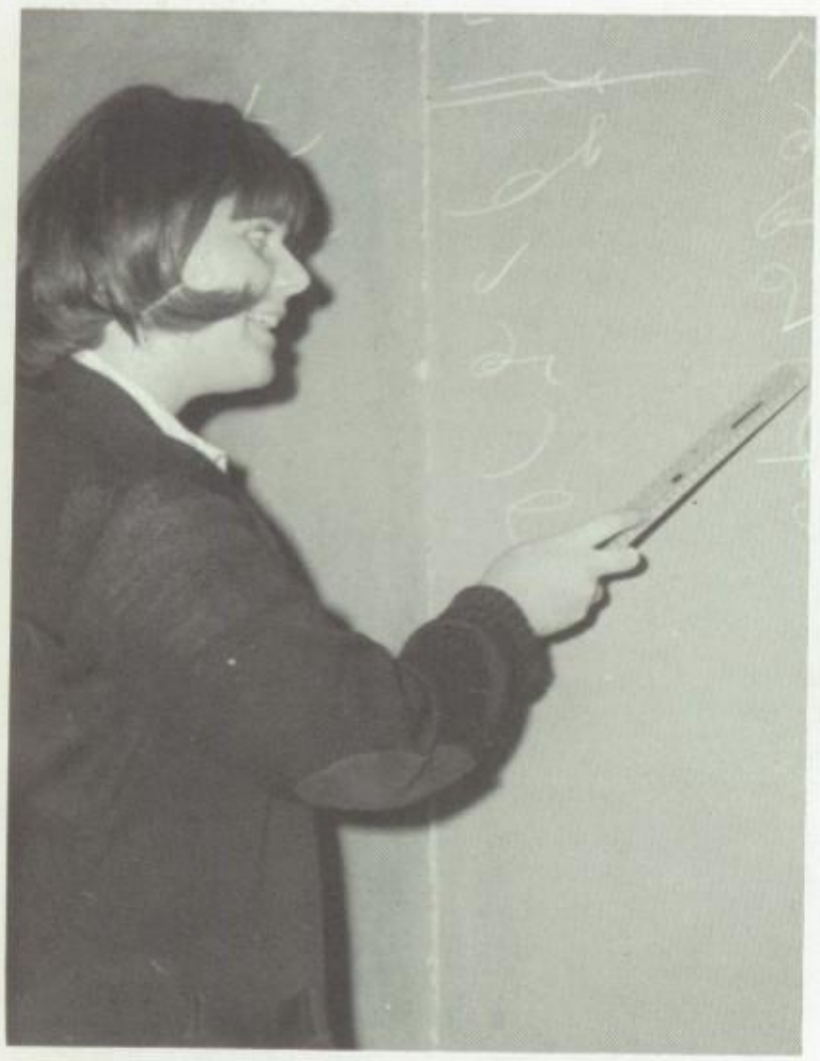


Trends in business sales and the cost of living are among topics studied by Steve Perry and Tom Bailey in business math class.

Federal income tax is an important discussion subject for economics students Tom Hargrave and Richard Vaughan.



Commercial Classes Develop Skills for



The importance of correct formation of shorthand symbols is pointed out by Sue Kerr.

Shorthand students Linda Scheu and Marilyn Knies devote their full attention to developing speed and accuracy in their work.

Preparing a mold culture assisted by Sister Helen Josephine are Bonnie Roth, Julie Gregory and Nancy Kleinhans.

During their study of bone structure, sophomores Bob Schimmelpfennig, Dave Beyerstedt and Ron Smith examine a duck skeleton.

Sophomores Probe Life Mysteries

Finding God in all created things, the sophomore biology classes have discovered that the spiritual is not separated from the material. They have found that molecules, bacteria and molds are all a part of God's plan of creation.

Today the BSCS approach tends toward a biochemical viewpoint. Students study certain chemicals in relation to their physiological effects upon plants and animals.

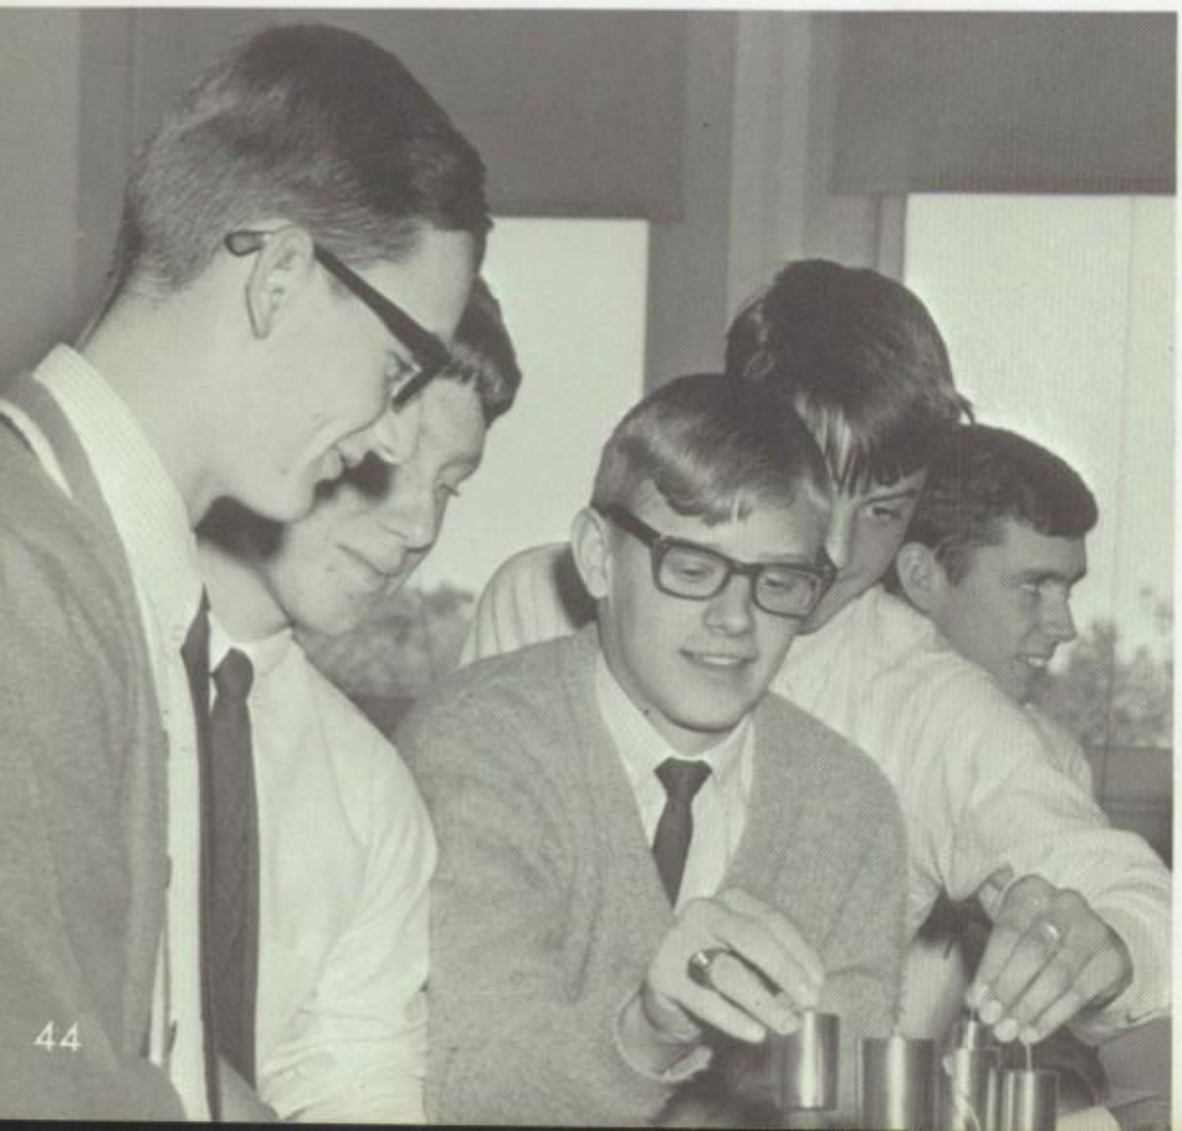
The molecular structure of different elements is examined as biologists delve into the many complexities of life.

Testing the effect of growth hormones on baby chicks are biologists Marsha Hirsch, Madalyn Donahue and Mary Kay Grief.

Chemistry Opens Up Whole New World

Chemical kinetics in energy of reaction is interpreted in styrofoam models for Jane Harris by Sister Ann Carolyn while Michele Wilson and Marilyn O'Daniel set up a TOPS overhead projection demonstration.

A lab assistant becomes familiar with chemistry equipment and the laboratory vocabulary. Here Marilyn Clark carefully removes a delicate cent-o-gram balance for an experiment in quantitative analysis.



Chemistry makes the student want to ask "why" and "how." It fills his mind with fascinating terms—ions, bonds, kinetics, stoichiometry. He learns about the structure of matter and its interrelationship with energy.

Through lab work he discovers many answers to his questions, and finds new ones to ask.

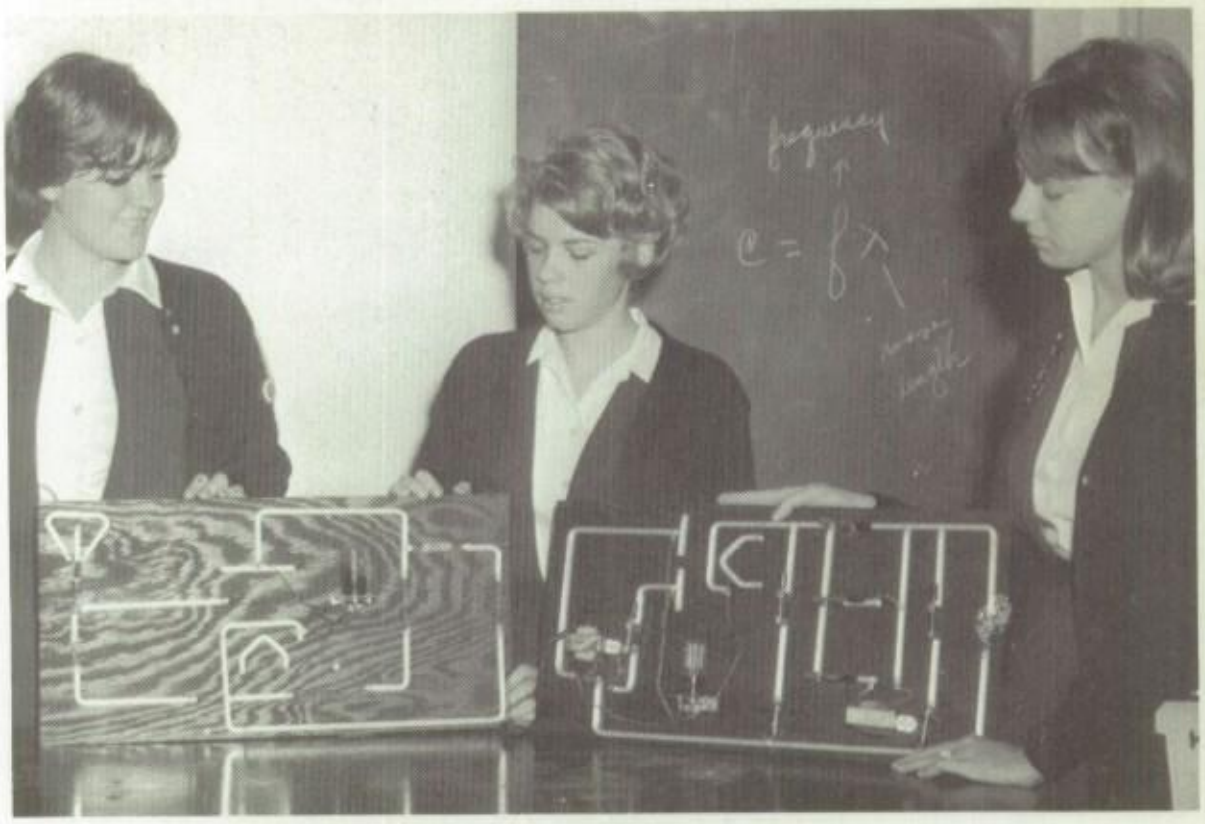
Above all, the chemistry student learns to wonder and to appreciate his world in a way he has never been able to do before.

Learning the basic principles of the metric system are Gregory Bitz, Chuck Raeber, Gary Frank, Ludwig Funke and Pete McDonald.

Physics Relates Laws of Nature

Physics, the basic natural science, is the study of matter and energy interrelated. In addition, it is one of the most productive and rapidly expanding sciences in the modern world.

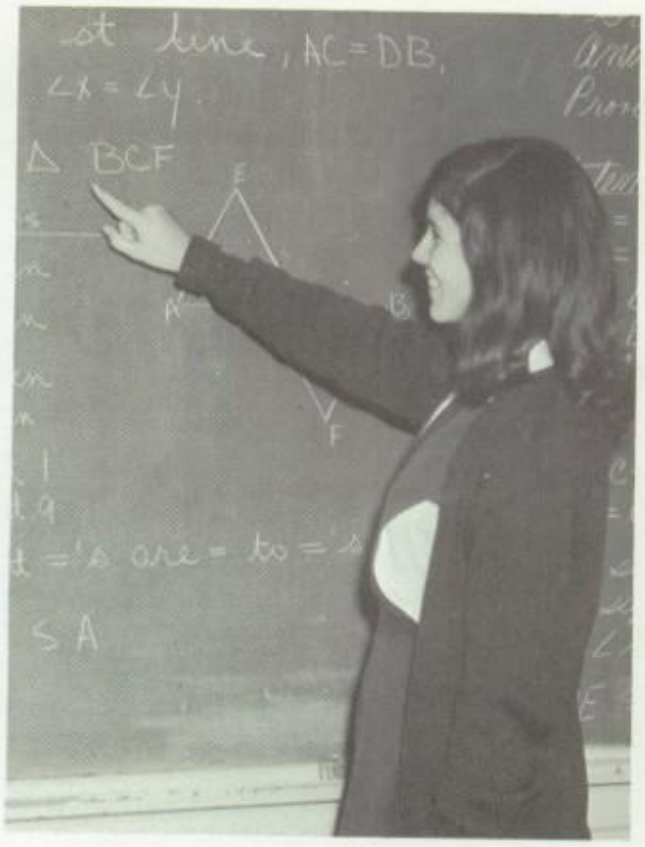
Tangible results of the study of physics, ones brought about by major technological advances in 20th century communications, are the spread of other branches of knowledge and the general unification of the people of the world.



Cathy Klingle, Ann Wilson and Denise Stallings examine models used to learn radio circuitry. After mastering basic principles of electricity, students complete their course in physics by constructing their own radios.

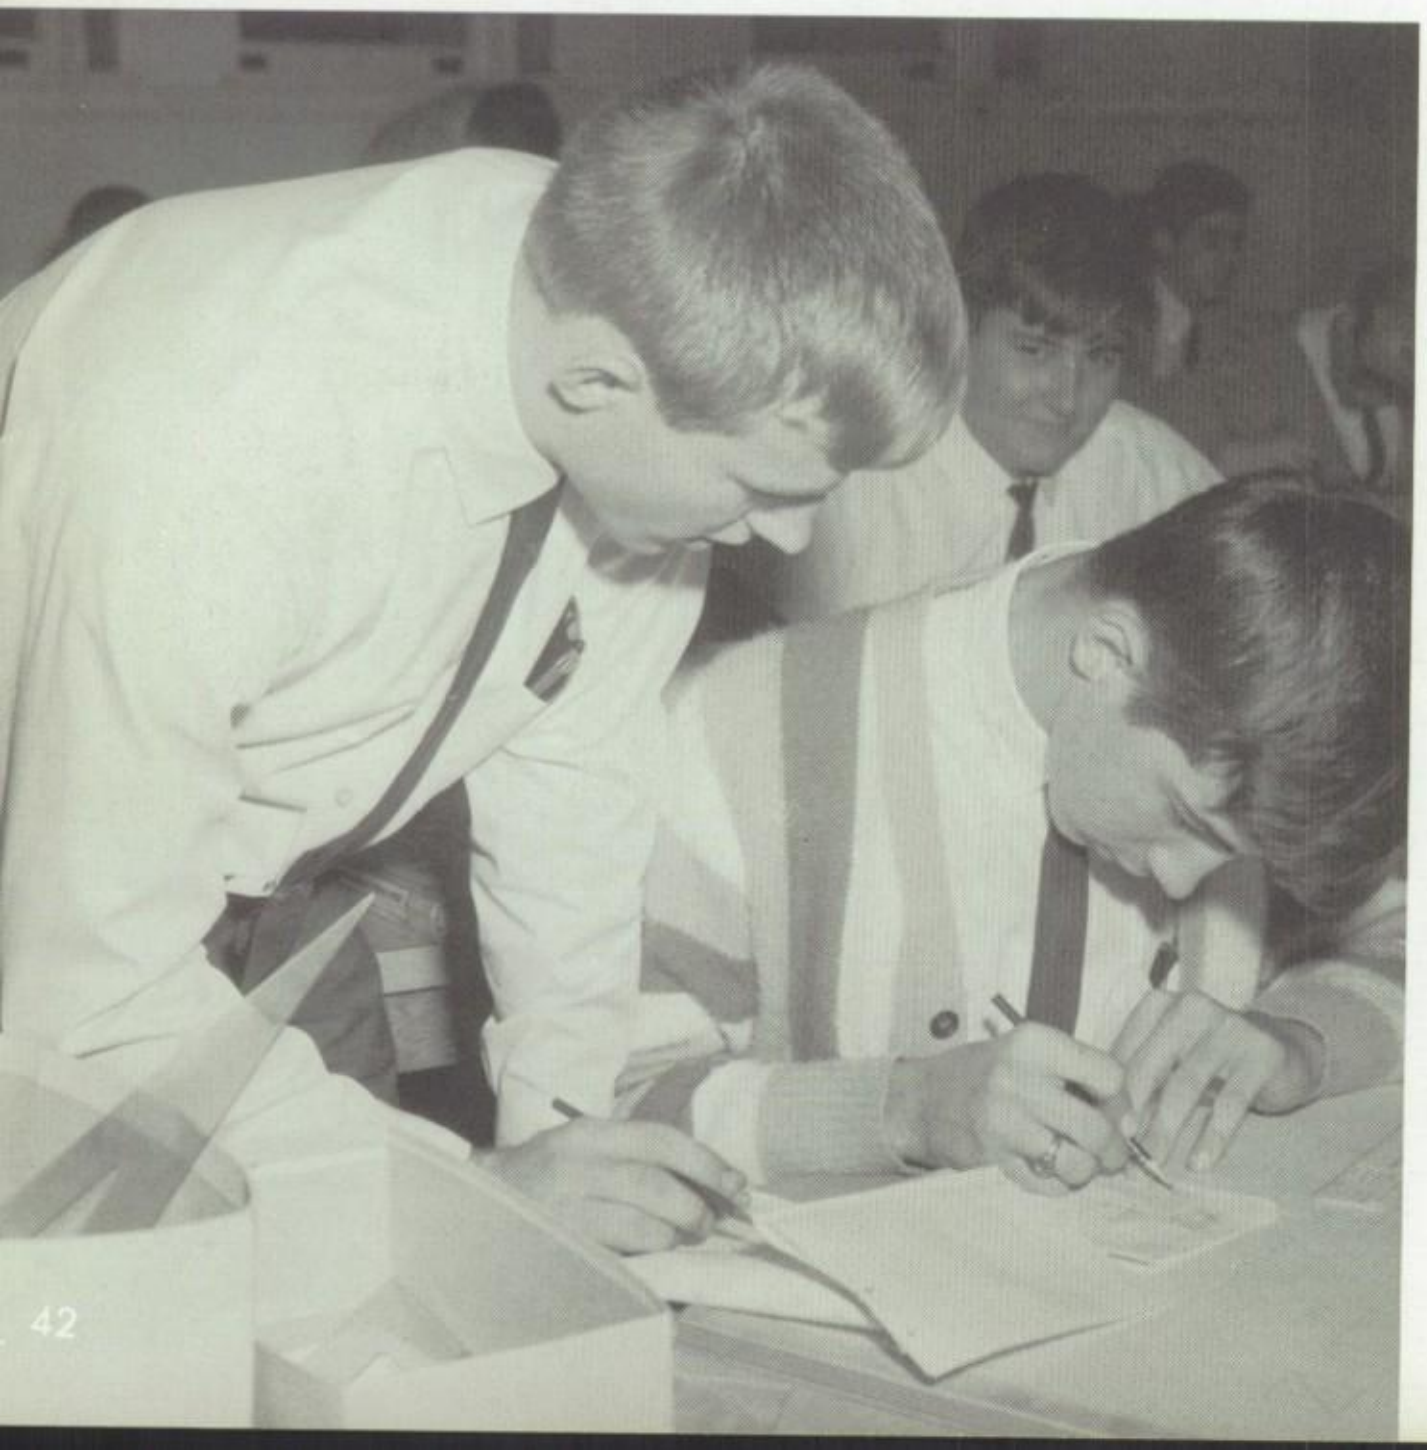
(Left) Physics student Teresa Mattingly stands by ready to ground the high potential if Micky O'Leary happens to cause the Van de Graaf generator to make her hair stand on end. (Above) Studying the coefficient of linear expansion are Mike Wempe, Kevin O'Kane and Tom Sheridan while Dave Duncan and Kenny Rogers examine the Hooke's Law apparatus.

Judy Woolsey shows Theresa Vowels and Mary Sirok how to measure angles by means of a protractor.



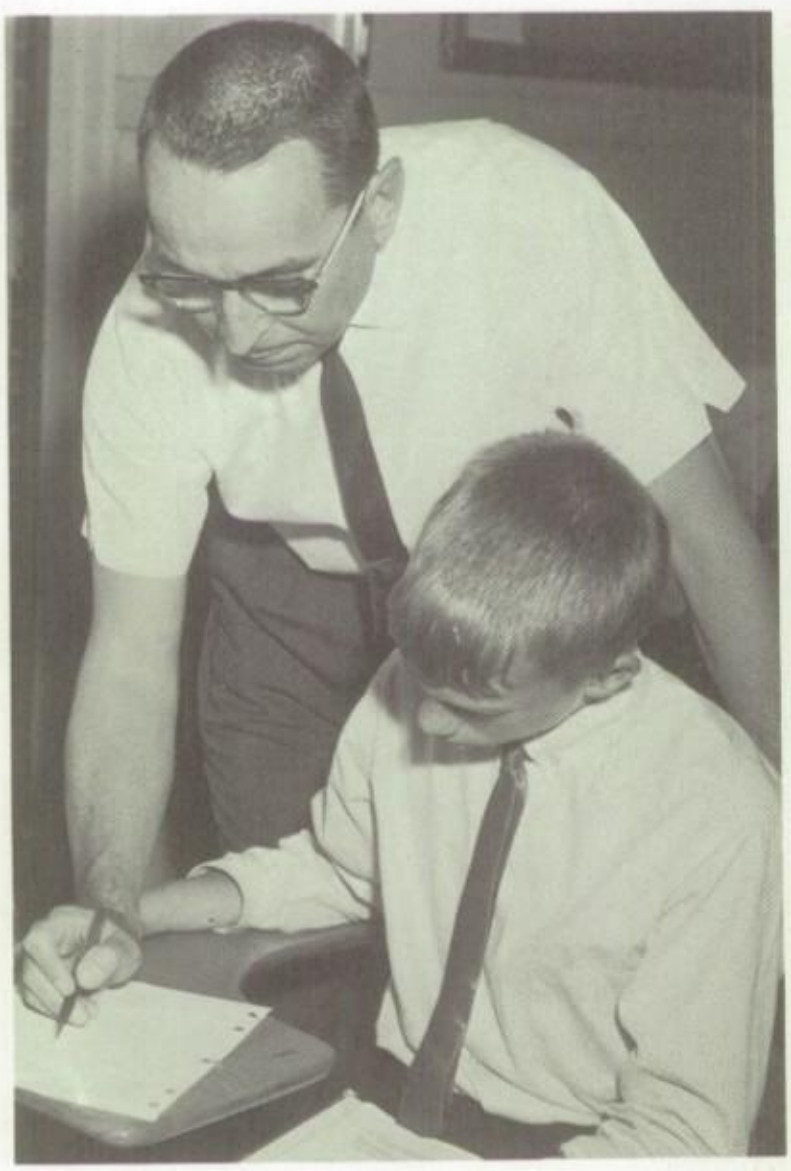
Connie Kessler completes a geometry proof, explaining to the class her reasoning in solving the problem.

Students Apply Math to Everyday Life

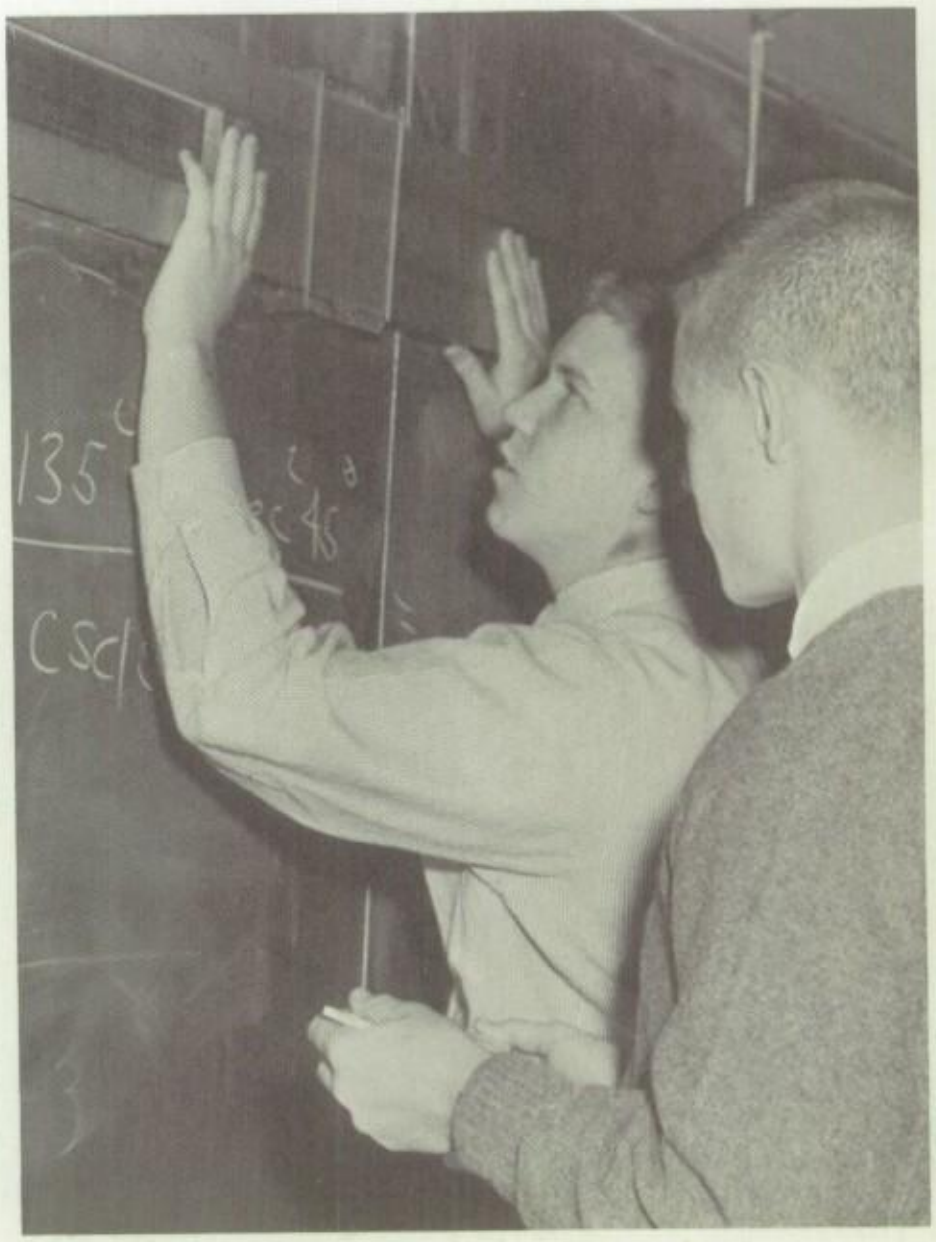


In mechanical drawing class Steve Scheller, Wayne Robinson and Jim Schili learn practical applications of mathematical principles.

In sophomore geometry Richard Combs, Ronald Hufnagel, and Randy Stephens learn to use triangulation to measure heights.



When Mike Austin finds a General Math problem too difficult, Mr. O'Kane offers his help.



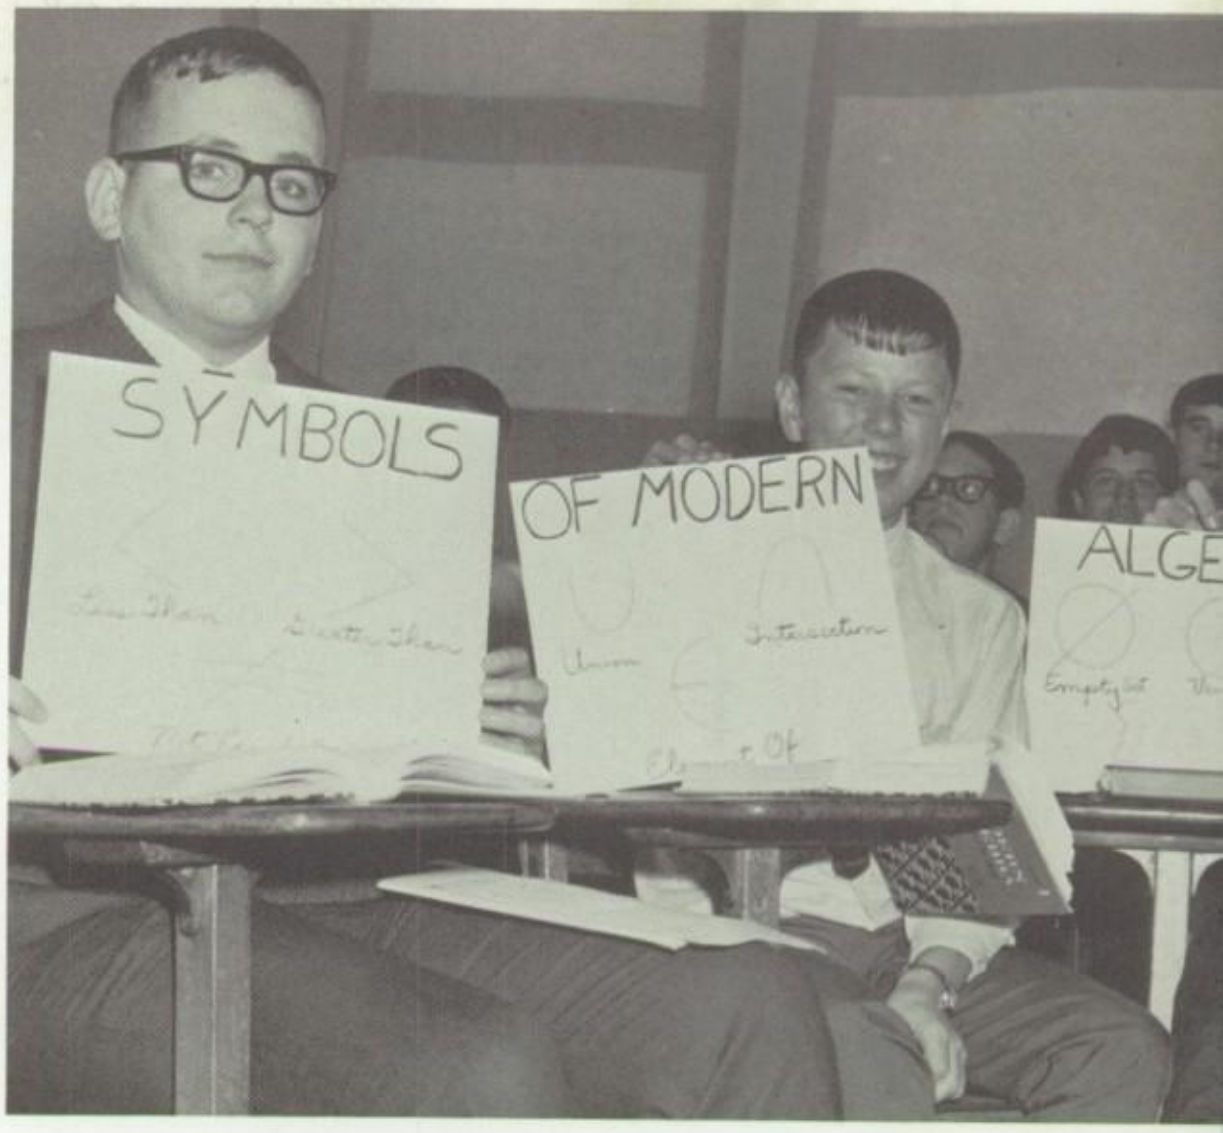
Using the slide rule, Joe Hartman and Jerry Evans quickly solve a complex problem in College Math.

Mathematics Finds X, Y, Z

In mathematics one learns to use his reasoning powers in solving a multitude of problems.

A freshman begins his course of study by taking Algebra I or General Math. After becoming acquainted with the new terms of sets, union, intersection and factoring, he advances to sophomore geometry.

As a junior one may elect Advanced Algebra. College Math with emphasis on trigonometry and analytical geometry is open to seniors.



Algebra I students Jim Simpson, Ron Sills, Bud Childers and Steve Brinkman exhibit symbols for set theory.

Examining three-dimensional objects as they encounter solid geometry are Math IV students Betty Sutherland, Teresa Mattingly, Bettye McFetridge and Sally Schiff.

Government class gives seniors Ruth Ulrich, Kathy Mayer and Linda Vincent a chance to discuss timely topics as medicare and the Vietnam policy with Sister Jeanne Elizabeth.

Prepare Students for World Citizenship

Tom Riordan and Glen Garvey point out sites of famous battles of Asian history.

Through the social studies program students probe the past, examine the present, plan for their role as citizens of the future.

World History acquaints freshmen with people and places from early civilization to the present day. Sophomores may elect World Geography while juniors learn to appreciate their country's heritage through United States History.

Through their Government course seniors examine current social issues, state and federal legislation, the benefits of government to the common good.

Social Studies

Scanning the globe for areas of interest made familiar through World History are freshmen Vicki Clements and Jennie Miller.

World Geography students Barbara Rose, Caroline Lasher and Sylvia Rusche examine pictures of places they have met in their class.

Tapes and large display photos aid French II seniors Caryl Schroer, Mary Jane Perkins and Cathy Schafer in understanding a filmstrip about Paris.

French I freshmen Linda Evinger, Nancy Getty, Nancy Perkins and Katie McDonald become "de bonnes actrices" in presenting a skit for the class.

French II students Mike Zimmer, Mike Kessler, Tom Riordan, Steve Goodrum and Brent Kroener take a break from normal class routine to inspect Paris newspapers.

Oral comprehension is a language-learning essential. Juniors Tom Hufnagel, John Gaither, Mike Gough and Ludwig Funke demonstrate the use of headsets in language lab as they listen to French I tapes. Ted Yeiser and Jerry Miles are in the background.

Languages Introduce Other Cultures

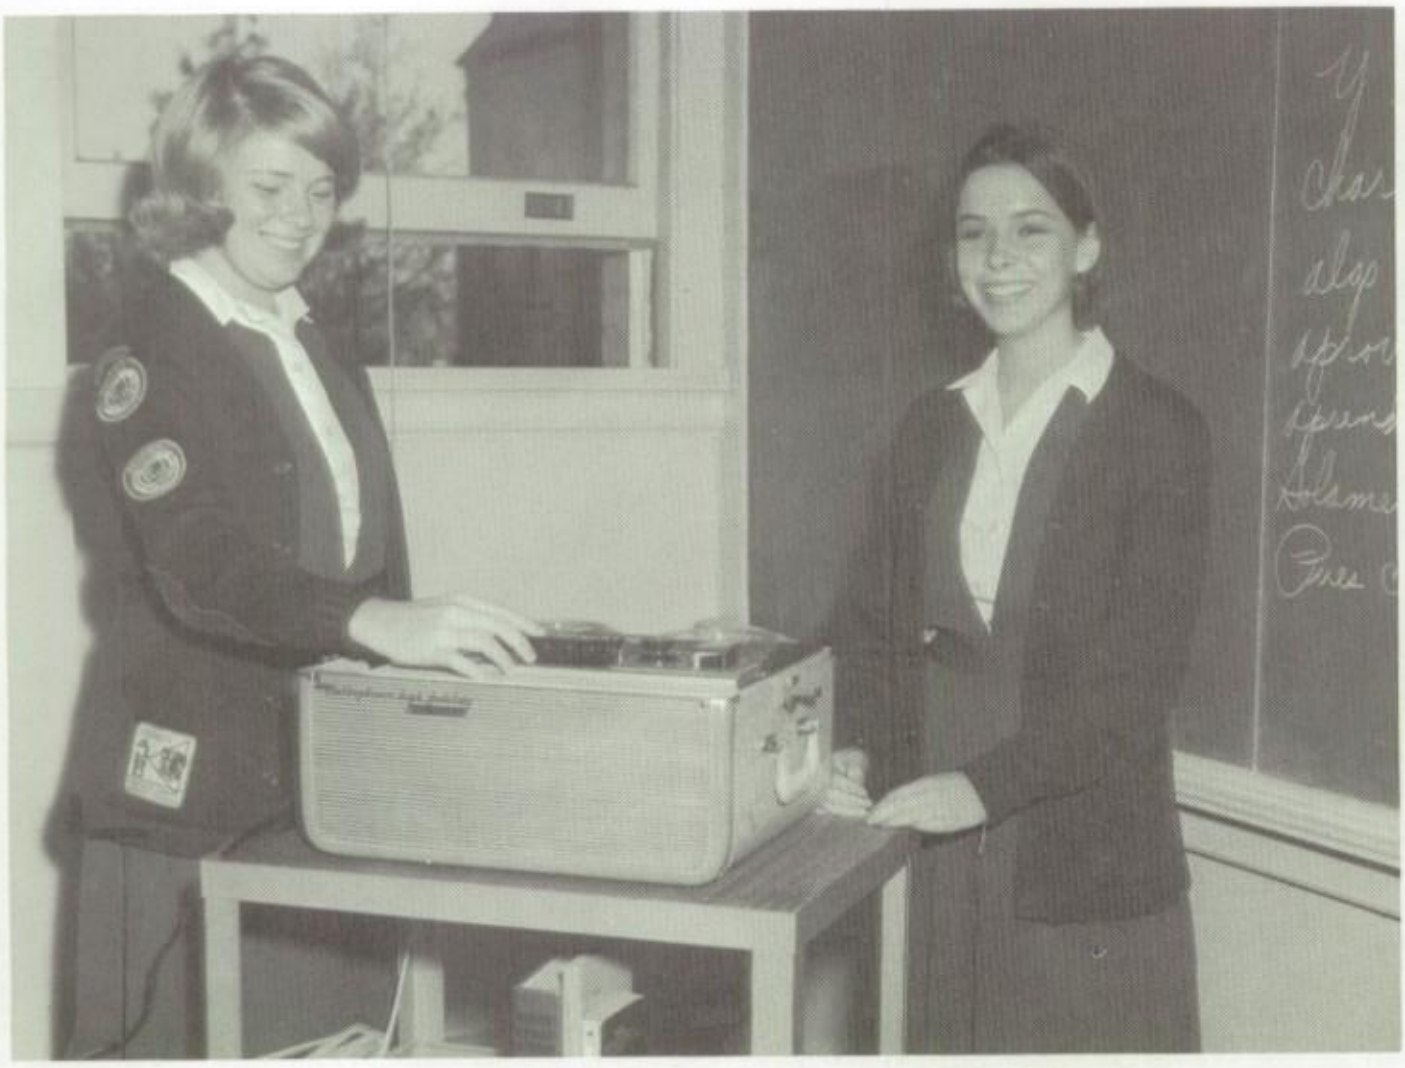
"Bonjour, Madame!" Flash cards help French I juniors learn Basic Dialogue Sentences. Practicing are Glenna Millay, Mary Lynn Marks, Jenny Adler, Kathy Fehn and Martha Browning.

In French and Spanish students follow an audio-lingual approach in which they learn to hear, speak, read and write the language.

To strengthen class work language students have access to a language lab with tapes accompanying the text. Visual aids supplementing the program include filmstrips, large display photos to stimulate conversations and picture flash cards to make learning dialogue sentences easier.

In addition to the regular two-year sequence for juniors and seniors, a new four-year sequence in French was inaugurated for freshmen in the girls' department this year.

Girls Speak, Read, Write Spanish

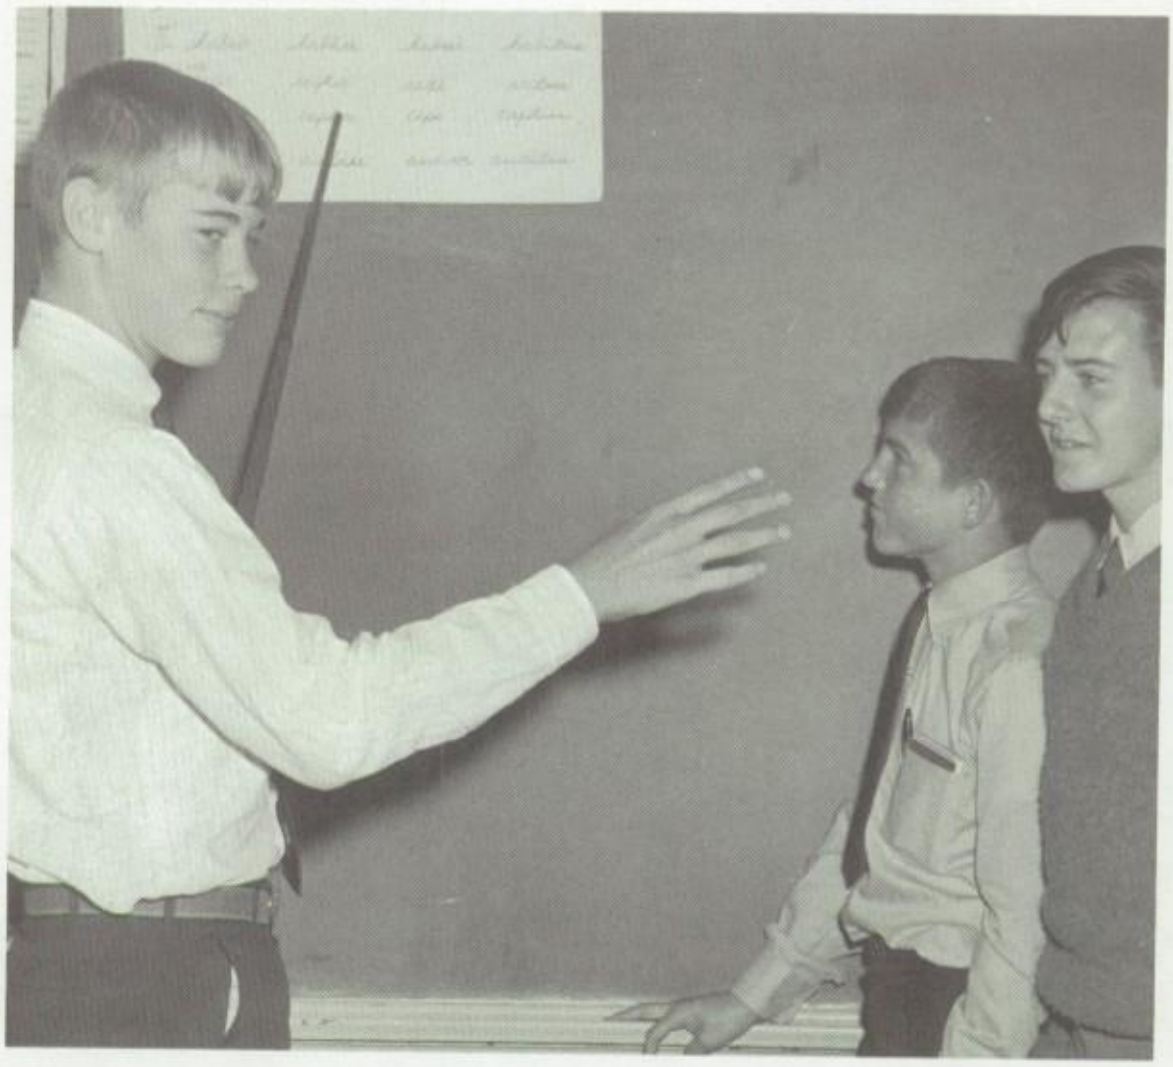


Listening to tapes made by native speakers helps Spanish II seniors Jeannie Wagner and Nancy Slaughter with oral comprehension of the language.

Spanish questions. Spanish answers. Spanish read. Spanish spoken. Junior Jean Schiff leads the class in a Spanish I exercise.

Roman Heritage Is Explored in Latin

Freshman Marsha Hensley reads a Latin passage for her classmates.



Latin I student Charles Stone reviews verbs for Herb Giorgio and Tom Parker.

Freshmen are eager to display their knowledge of sentence structure in Latin I.

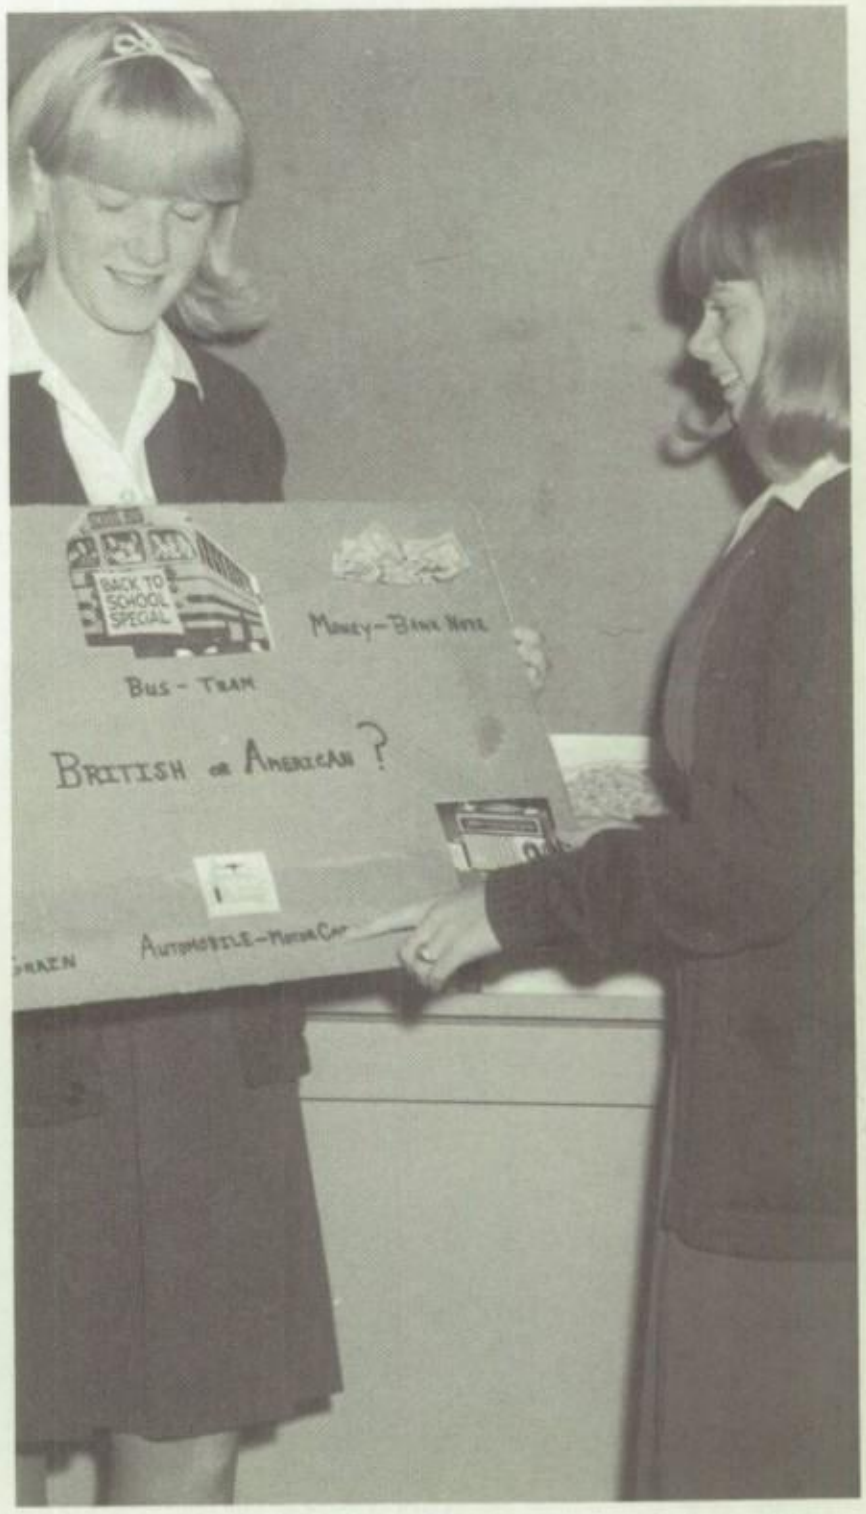
Conjugation of verbs, declension of nouns and analysis of sentence structure are familiar terms to first year Latin students as they learn basic Latin grammar.

Although the study of Caesar's commentaries is the major topic of second year Latin, students enjoy the story of the Argonauts and selections from great Latin writers, including Cicero, Horace, Pliny, Livy and Vergil.

Translation and daily vocabulary drill are imperative for mastering Latin. However, projects, oral reports and other activities provide a deeper insight into the culture of the ancient Roman civilization.

Analyzing their original compositions with Sister Mary Janet's help are sophomores Stevann Seng, Deborah Lewis, Phyllis Bosler and Ellen Sheets.

Language Structure



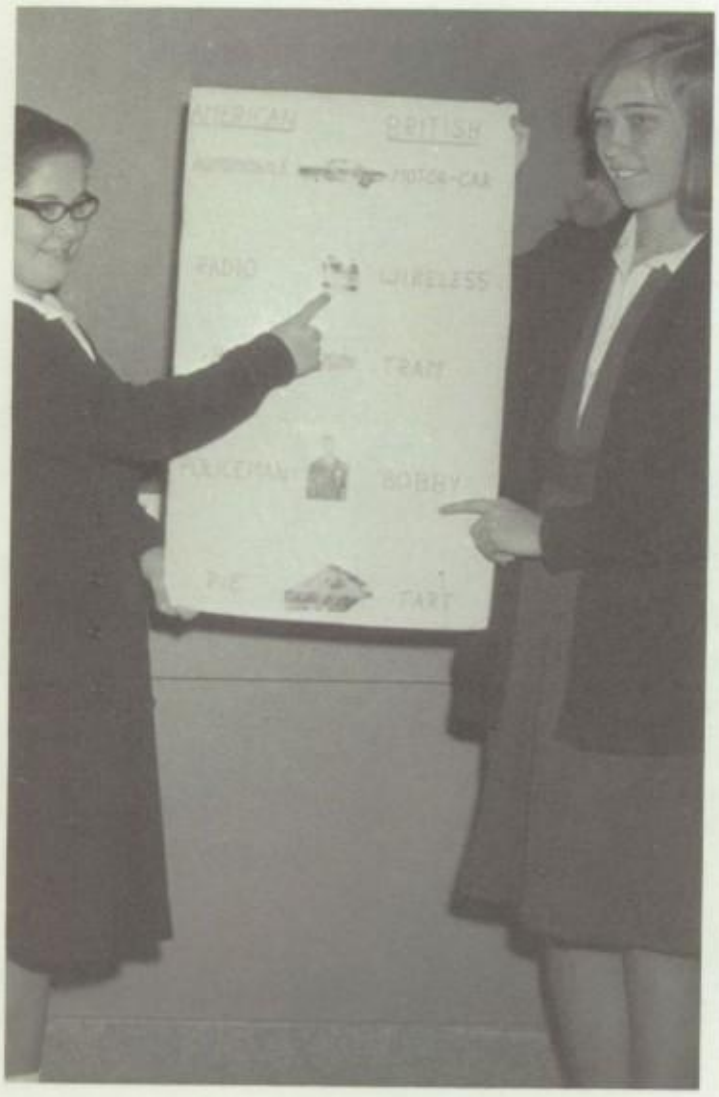
British or American? This question is asked by freshmen Janet Merrick and Marcia Hooper as they study English language dialects.

Practicing speed-reading in their language arts class are freshmen Kathy Foley and Catherine Lasher.

English II students Mike Haughey and Mark Stumpf use pantomime to illustrate their story.

Richard McCarthy conducts a discussion with David Wolter, George Stockwell and Tom Mueller in English I.

English Opens Way to Literature,



Freshmen Lois Scheessele and Kathy Dippel investigate English word origins and variations.

Shakespeare, Chaucer and Dickens are among English authors discussed by seniors Gingie McMullen, Shirley Sickman, Pam Kissel, Karen Bristow and Barbara Borst.

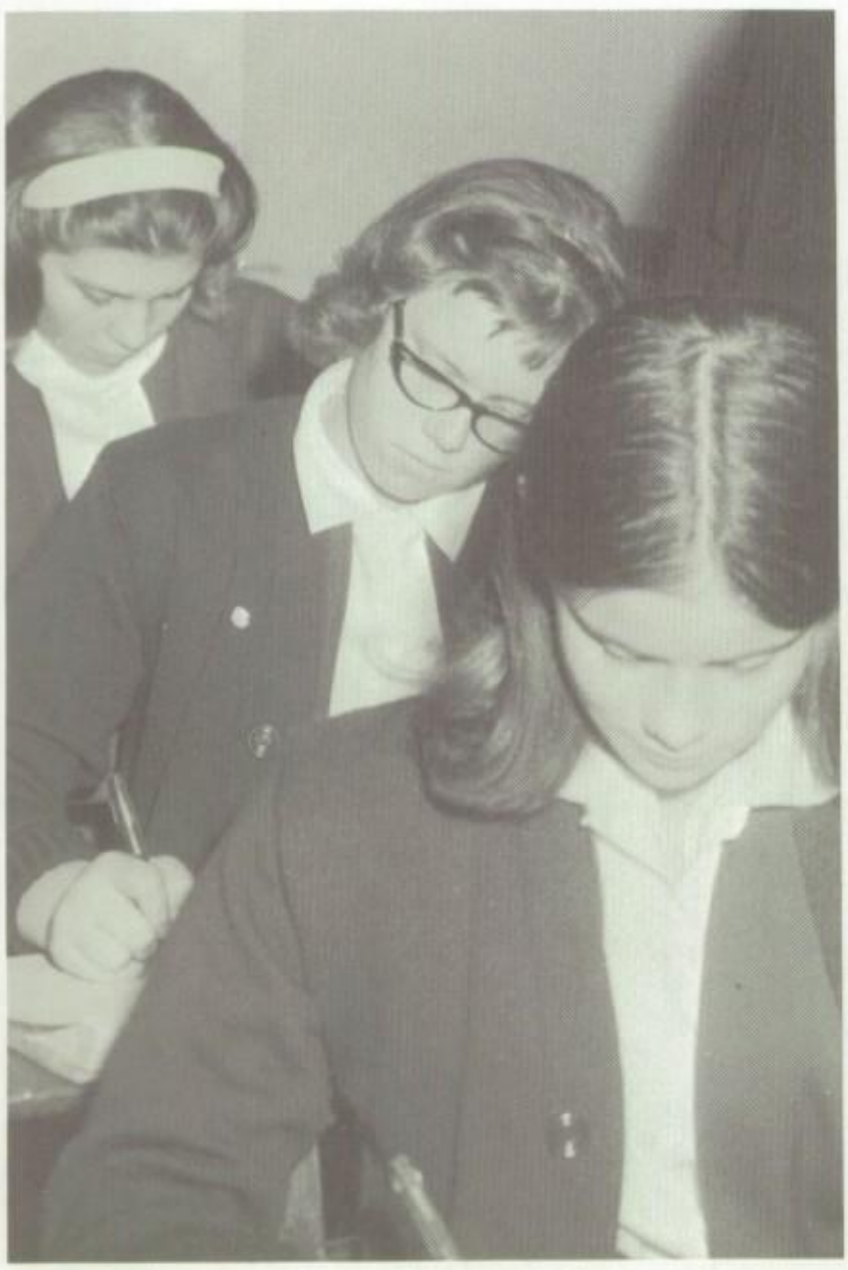
Writing Class

First-year English involves a review of grammar with emphasis placed on sentence structure. An introduction to literature is continued into sophomore year, along with learning correct paragraph form.

The development of American literature from colonial days up to the present comprises a major part of English III. In senior year English literature is studied from its earliest beginnings in Beowulf.

Language arts, creative writing and speech broaden the English curriculum in diversified ways.

Freshmen Kathy Gilles, Kathy Foley, Barbara Jochum and Theresa Vowels find that the only way to learn correct grammar is through careful practice exercises.



Investigating the structure of English is thought absorbing study for Jenny Miller (front), Nancy White and Catherine Lasher.

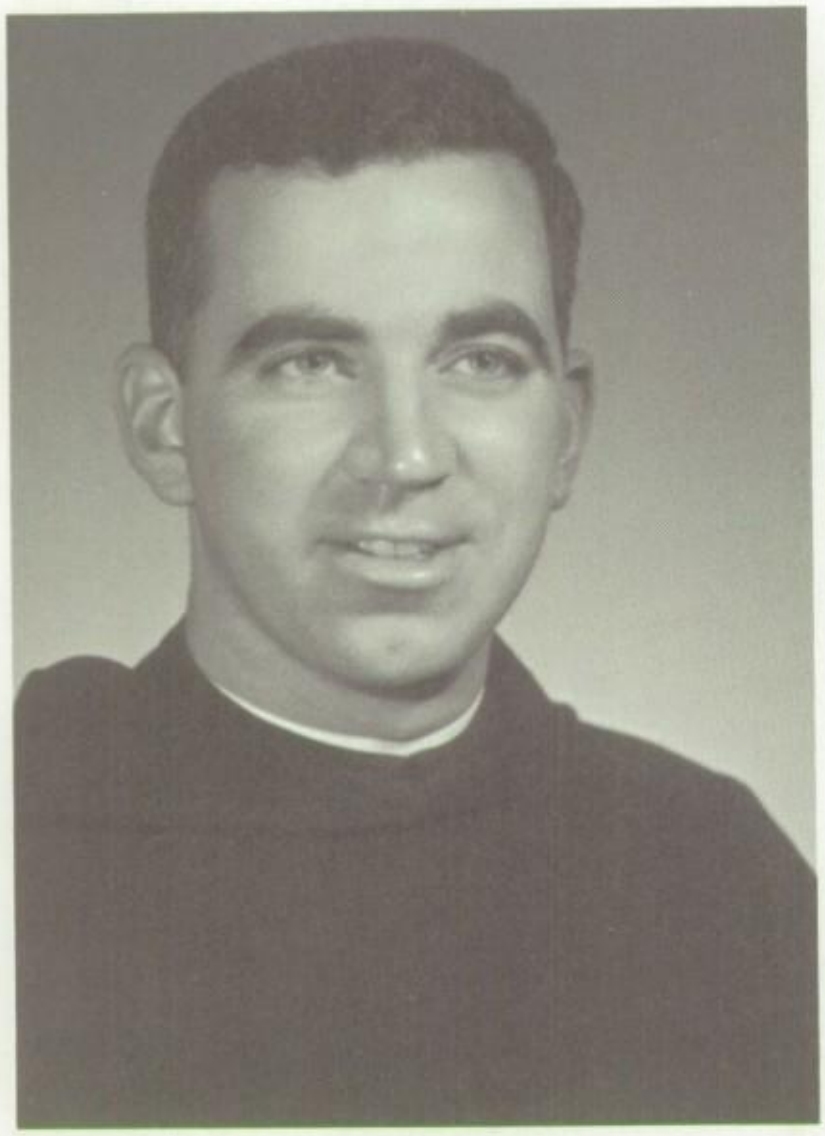
Acting out their original interpretation of A Christmas Carol are Language Arts students Judy Woolsey, Jenny Miller, Jenny Kincaid, Teresa Vowels, (foreground) Jan Wilson and Vicki Clements.

Creativity Emerges in Language Arts

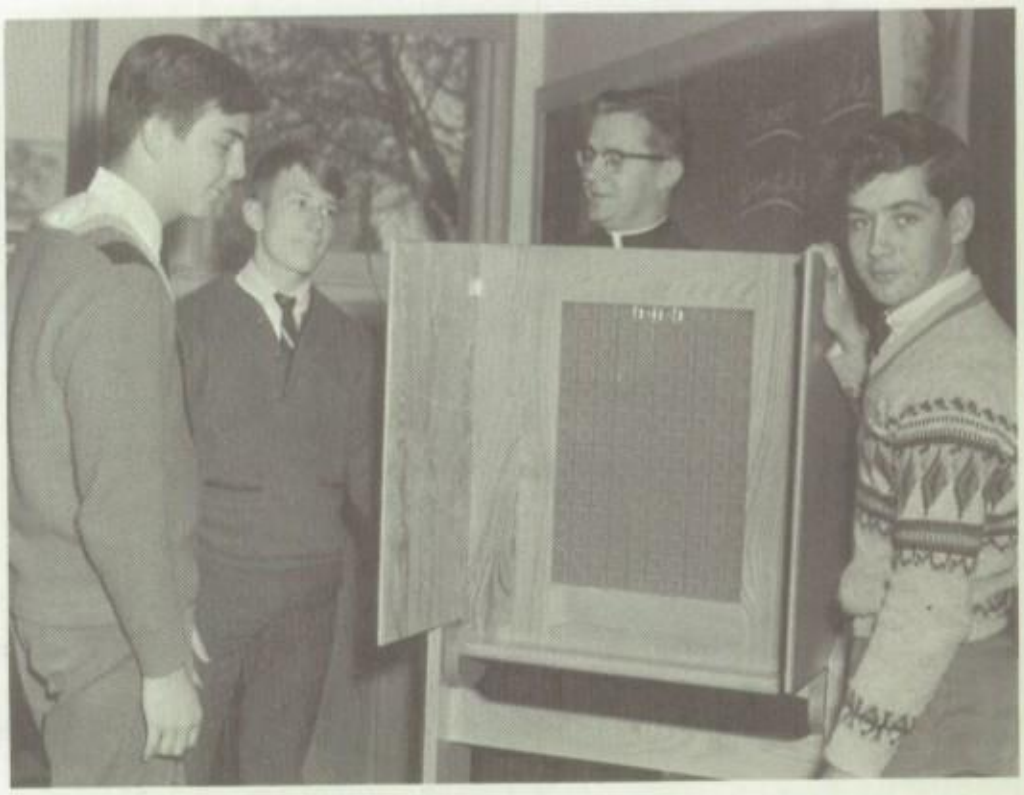
An introduction to American literature leads juniors Curt Garnett, Jerry Miles, Mark Craddock and Don Zimmer to explore more examples of their country's literary heritage.

An amusing scene in Oliver Goldsmith's The Vicar of Wakefield is enjoyed in English IV by Jeannie Wagner, Peggy Nolen, Connie Thompson and Bonnie Schneider.

Father Lambert's Talks Stress Faith



"Salvation Is Found in Christ Alone" was the theme of the retreat conducted by Father Lambert Reilly, OSB. Father, who studied at the Catholic University of America and Georgetown University, is on the faculty at St. Meinrad.



While explaining the importance of a good retreat confession, Father Clauss describes his portable confessional to Randy Kissinger, Steve Walter and Larry Wahnsiedler.

During retreat Billie Jo Gaw makes use of spiritual reading material available in her homeroom.

In between conferences Marsha Metz, Kathy Mayer, Katie Riordan and Jenny Rayburn join other retreatants in a time of recollection and reading.

Catholic Student Mission Crusade officers organize homeroom collections, stamp drives and support of the Bishops' Relief Fund. Mission unit officers are: Karen Garvey, secretary; Anne Kayser, president; Gail Allison, treasurer; Nancy Market, vice president.

Missions Encourage Sacrifice, Prayer

Instruction Promote a Christian Atmosphere

Moderator Sister Helen Josephine aids Sodality officers Roberta Van Hoy, Janet Taylor, Donna Evinger, Mary Getty and Anne Statham in last minute preparations for the Orange Drive. Conducted annually at Thanksgiving time, the drive benefits the Little Sisters of the Poor's Home for the Aged.

Santa Claus Sharon Keller special delivers stockings filled by the girls' department to guests at the Little Sisters of the Poor Home.

Saturday free-time finds seniors Anne Statham and Anne Kayser working with Sister Mary Fabian to get Christmas food baskets ready for needy families.

Apostolic Works and Religious

Expressing their views in a Religion I "buzz session" are Steve Culley, Kennan Garvey, Herb Giorgio, Charles Stone and Ron Stone.

Don Schilling conducts a panel discussion on capital punishment. Religion II panelists are John Tisserand, John Dodson, Greg DeWitt, Steve Goodrum.

Senior Steve Baker recites the answers to his oral Religion IV test as Jose Lopez, Mike Wempe, Tom Bennett, Mark Stephens and Bill Muller listen attentively.

Commitment

Religion holds fundamental importance in the daily lives of Memorial students. Taught by diocesan priests, courses in a four-year sequence are required.

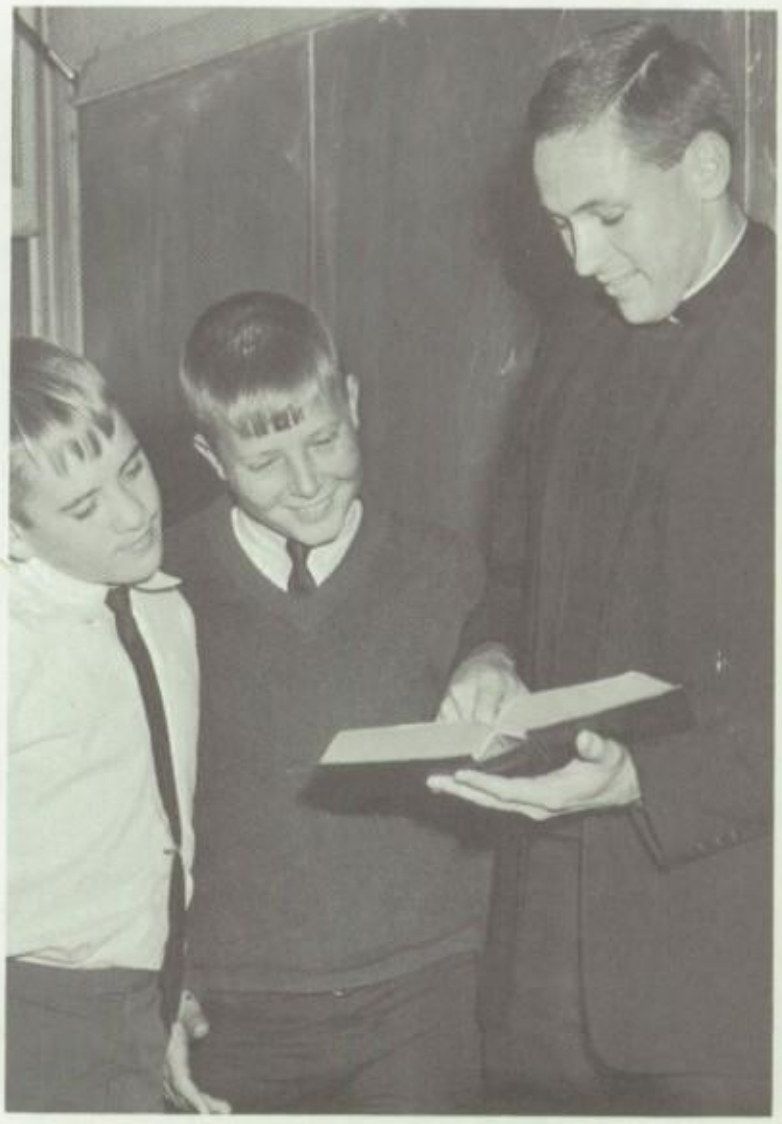
Basic principles re-examined in light of modern developments in theology and scripture studies comprise the freshman course. In the second year close attention is given to the Bible, both the Old and New Testaments.

Juniors arrive at a deeper understanding of human nature and their places as Christians. In their last year, seniors work to achieve an adult conviction of their faith and to apply this conviction to their understanding of the sacrament of marriage and the vocation they will follow in life.

In senior religion class Father Deig explains to Elaine Mosbey, Linda Scheu and Linda Vincent a passage from the New Testament in relation to the teenager's role in today's world.

Religion Course Deepens Christian

Father Lutterbach points out an Old Testament passage to sophomores Dave Scheu, Bud Childers, Bob Bauer, Bob Heerdink and Tom Kohmescher.



In Religion I Father Betz takes time out for an explanation to Chris Spear and Danny Dean.

Father Clauss makes religion an interesting class for juniors Beth Chamberlain, Pat Evans, Linda Wempe and Linda Reeves.

Reading and understanding Sacred Scripture comprise a vital part of religion study for freshmen Kathy Jarboe, Nancy Miller, Debbie Jerger, Patty Taylor and "teacher" Beth Fuchs.

Teenagers rushing from class to class, people hurrying to work, astronauts training for the moon-trip. . . Life is moving!

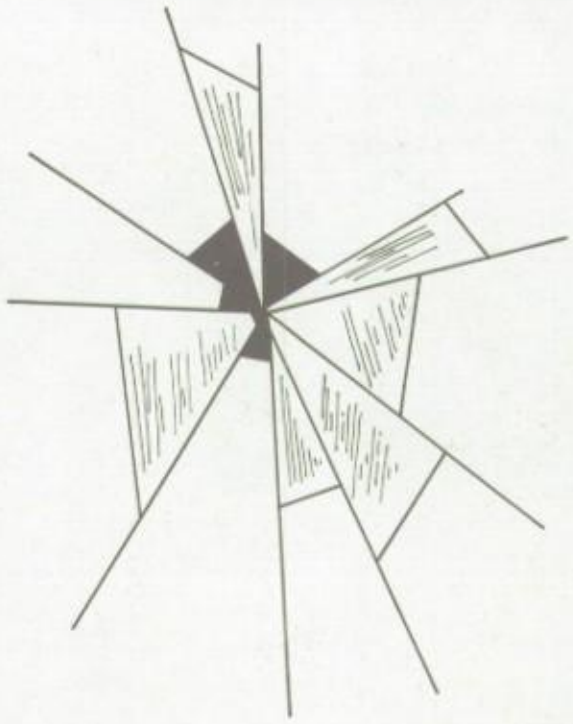
Today's space-age philosophers accept the inevitability of progress. Certainly this constant movement drawing men closer and closer since the isolated caveman is more than just chance. Beyond shrinking the world physically, modern transportation and communication have narrowed the gaps between minds separated by miles, culture and background.

Few succeed in sealing themselves off in intellectual or social ghettos. Involvement, voluntary or not, is inevitable.

Christians are influenced by the pace of their world. Their search for a more mature religious concept and inter-faith communication reflects the need for spiritual closeness. Vatican II and ecumenism give evidence. Life is moving—physically, spiritually—in a horizontal direction as men come closer together.

But looking back in history reveals an upward or forward movement in time. Besides evolving physically, man has changed in his awareness of the world, delving farther beyond and deeper within himself.

Yet this motion must be directed toward something. By the very nature of the movement, the common center upon which men are converging must make possible a true unity while preserving perfect individuality.



The only answer is the Being in whom such paradox is possible. In a God who is All, man achieves both oneness and individual uniqueness.

Life is moving towards

unification . . .

The future

of the earth

is in our hands . . .

It is not our heads

or our bodies

which we must bring together

but our hearts.

The generating principle of our

unification

is not finally to be found in the single contemplation

of the same truth

or in the single desire awakened by something

But in the single attraction

exercised by the same

Someone.
